

FOCH WAY TO RUIN BASIL

FRANCE FEELS SITUATION HAS GROWN SERIOUS

Report That Chief of Allied Army In World War To Take Personal Charge of French Occupational Forces Fills Populace With Joy.

EFFORTS TO HINDER INVADERS CONTINUE As Result of Obstructive Tactics Practiced By Germany Successions, of Penalties Mark Activities During Past Twenty-Four Hours.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—France was tonight thrilled by word, as yet not officially confirmed that Marshal Foch, generalissimo of allied armies during the world war, is on his way to the Ruhr to take personal charge of the French army of occupation.

No other move could have so poignantly gripped the attention of the man in the street. Foch, idol of his country, symbolizes war.

The French feel that the situation in the newly occupied territory is critical. A constant succession of reports from various sources, detailing German steps to obstruct the invaders in their purposeful forcible collection of reparations in kind—poured into Paris this evening.

France, in the parlance of the boulevard, is beginning to wonder if she has "bitten off more than she can chew."

Succession of Penalties. The past twenty-four hours has been a succession of penalties, obstructive retaliation and more penalties.

With a certain amount of censorship in effect throughout the Ruhr, word of how the occupied territory survived the first pay day night has not reached Paris. The miners come down to Essen Saturday nights, many to get drunk and spend their wages on a riotous good time. With French troops around the city, many of them on patrol duty in the streets, the presence of husky, brawling Westphalians is not calculated to make matters safe for peace and quiet.

An even more dangerous situation was threatened when it was doubtful if the miners would be paid at all. But some one pulled the wires and the miners received their wages.

Prepare Strike Plans. BERLIN, Jan. 20.—Strike of mine workers in the occupied Ruhr area is now under preparation and will (Continued on Page 4.)

NEGROES LEAVING TOWN IN INDIANA

Entire Black Population Is Ordered Out Following Attack On White Girl.

(International News Service.) BLANFORD, Ind., Jan. 20.—Every unmarried male negro had left Blanford by 7 p. m. The rest of the black population was ordered to quit the town by midnight.

Blanford is just across the Indiana-Illinois state line in the center of a cluster of mining camps and the negroes are a helpless minority.

Admits Starting Fire to Revenge Strike Sympathy

HARRISON, Ark., Jan. 20.—Confessing malice toward the proprietor, George McVey, former hotel man, admitted here tonight that he set fire to the Redwines general store at Leslie, Ark., in which a stock of $125,000 was destroyed, according to the police.

McVey, the police say, declared he committed the act in revenge for the store proprietor's sympathy for the Missouri & North Arkansas Railroad in its fight against the striking railway shopmen.

FATAL SHOT BY NEGRO BANDIT

Lodgepole Man Attempts to Stop Robber In An Omaha Store and Receives Bullet Through His Body.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 20.—William Deerson, 54, lodgepole, Neb., was shot and probably fatally wounded by two negro bandits when he attempted to overpower one of them as they were robbing the W. E. Grogan grocery store tonight.

Deerson, a customer, seized one of the bandits as he was robbing the cash register. The negro wrenched himself free and fired, the bullet passing through Deerson's body. The negroes secured $4 and escaped.

NEW LEADS IN DANGER'S DEATH

Police Hope One of Three Clues Will Solve Murder of Fritz Mann.

(International News Service.) SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 20.—Following the "love trail" in an effort to solve the mysterious murder of Fritz Mann, a "white" semi-nude body was found on the sands below Torrey Pines, near San Diego four days ago, authorities tonight centered their attention on these developments which featured their efforts to identify the man believed responsible for the girl's death.

The first was the statement of William J. Ryan, a San Diego truck driver who reported passing a closed automobile on Torrey Pines grade Sunday night and observing a man and a woman engaged in a violent argument. The second was the discovery of a half mile from where Miss Mann's body was found.

The third development was a search for a man upon whom Miss Mann bestowed her smiles during her sojourn in Los Angeles.

Prohib Head Says Intoxication Has Decreased By Half

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Intoxication is decreasing particularly among the negro population, according to prohibition commissioner, said tonight in a statement pointing out the progress being made by prohibition in the "partly hostile centers."

Arrests and arrangements for intoxication show a drop of more than fifty per cent for the two prohibition years as compared with years from 1910 to 1916, he said. Alcoholism and insanity have registered similar drops.

MASK IS TORN FROM 5 FACES

State of Louisiana Breaks Through "Wall of Silence" and Gathers Concrete Facts Regarding Killing of Morehouse Men August 24.

ALLEGED MEMBERS OF MOB ARE IDENTIFIED

Truck In Which Two Were Carried to Their Death Also Brought Out and List of Dead Increased By Murder Over Testimony Friday.

(International News Service.) COURT HOUSE, Bastrop, La., Jan. 20.—The "wall of silence" behind which the "black masks" of Morehouse parish mocked at justice, was crumbling tonight under smashing attacks from the state of Louisiana. Retribution was in sight at least for the "hooded mobs"—which ravaged the countryside, terrorized the inhabitants, kidnapping, whipping and at last murdering, as a result of startling revelations made in today's session of the opening hearing.

The "black masks" have been torn from the faces of five alleged members of the mob, through identification from the witness stand.

The "murder truck" used by the mob to carry their kidnapped victims on August 24 to the whipping grounds and later that night as a hearse to bury the hideously mutilated forms of Watt Daniel and Tou P. Richards also was identified by a witness under oath.

The name of Captain J. K. Skip, with, exalted cyclops of the Ku Klux Klan, was involved in the testimony. One witness charged him with participation in the kidnapping raid.

The masked gangsters while another declared he watched at an advantageous point to meet his alleged cohorts with their captives.

The identification of murder mob members were T. J. Burns, a deputy sheriff, now under arrest on (Continued on Page 4.)

SEVERAL HURT IN AUTO SMASHUP

Two Cars Collide on the S. Y. A. Highway Late Saturday Night.

Six Occupants of One Machine Thrown Out In Head-On Crash.

Several people were cut by flying glass and badly bruised, one being killed seriously injured when two automobiles crashed head-on about a mile and a half west of the Woodlawn dairy on the S. Y. A. highway late Saturday night.

An Oakland car, said to have been driven by E. A. Hudgens of Havelsok, was upset and its six occupants thrown out. A Buick said to have been driven by James Elliott, of near Malcolm, was partially wrecked. Fred Watson was an occupant of the Buick.

The accident is said to have occurred when the Oakland passed another car. The front wheels of the two cars locked. The third car, a Hudson, belonging to Mr. Harbert of Ulica, returned and carried the most injured of the party to Lincoln.

TRAINMAN FALLS; SKULL FRACTURED

A. S. Popp, 56, 621 G street, a Burlington switchman, received a fracture of the skull about 1:30 Saturday night when he slipped and fell to the track while stepping from one box car to another. He was working with a string of cars near Burnham.

Popp was not missed until the crew started to return to the yards, when he was seen by the engineer lying by the side of the track. He was picked up and rushed to Lincoln on the engine and taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital. Dr. F. B. Hollenbeck and C. L. Falkenberg operated immediately. According to Dr. Falkenberg Popp has a good chance to live.

Relate Thrilling Tale of Rescue on a Raging Sea

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—The Italian liner Giuseppe Verdi, from Naples, docked here today with thirty-three survivors of the freighter Montello and 400 passengers who told tales of as heroic a rescue as was ever recorded in the annals of the sea.

Many among the passengers, all of whom knelt in groups and prayed for the lives of the freighter crew while giant waves ripped over decks outside the lives and smashed lifeboats claimed that only a miracle made the rescue possible.

The Giuseppe Verdi picked up an S. O. S. from the Montello January 18 and shortly after came upon her riding a terrific gale 40 miles north of Bermuda. The freighter's steering gear was gone and the grain cargo had shifted until she listed at an angle that told of imminent disaster.

With the sea running mountain high the liner stood by, unable to launch lifeboats.

One lifeboat smashed. With the wind somewhat abated the following morning, but with waves still running hundreds of feet high, Second Officer Fuzziere of the liner led an effort to launch a boat. Twenty-two men went over the freighter's side into it and as the tiny craft drew alongside the towering liner, a wave smashed the lifeboat against the hull. Hundreds of lifebelts, scattered instantly from the liner's decks, saved the men struggling in the water.

"We're coming." Captain Sturges with eleven remaining men, attempted to launch a second boat but it was dashed to pieces. From the Giuseppe Verdi, Captain Vangararo signalled:

"We're coming over." Gerolamo Stagnaro, first officer of the liner, went over battling for an hour to get up to the Montello without wrecking his craft. He took a desperate chance and tried to ride the crest of a wave alongside. Through back, his head was picked up by another wave and dropped snugly into a hollow of water alongside the freighter. The crew jumped, and before the lifeboat reached the liner the Montello sank.

NEBRASKA STEERS TAKE ALL PRIZES

Win a Total of $1,110 In Prizes At National Western Stock Show.

Black Leonard, An Angus Steer, Is Both Grand and Reserve Champion.

University of Nebraska steers made a clean sweep in the carcass classes, winning a total of $1,110 in prizes on all its entries at the National Western Stock show at Denver, Saturday. In a competition that included specimen from leading herds of the west, the university won first, second and third in both the yearling and calf classes as well as grand and reserve grand champion carcasses.

Black Leonard, the winner of the grand championship, was reserve champion Angus steer on foot and as a result of winning both classes, received a special prize of $300 in addition to the regular class prizes. His total winnings were $420, and sold at the auction Wednesday for 20 cents a pound, netting the university $180, bringing the total to $600. This calf was bred in the college as was his sire. He was fourteen months old, being dropped November 24, 1921.

LAND FRAUD CASE OPENS ON MONDAY

Men Charged With Misrepresenting California Properties On Trial In Chicago.

Thought Amount Involved Will Mount to Close to Five Million.

(United Press.) CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Trial of eighteen men from all parts of the country, charged with misrepresenting California properties, was scheduled to start in federal court here Monday. It was announced tonight.

The men were offering or employing the defunct Dan Hays and company of Idaho, which sold lands in Madera and Merced counties of California.

The lands were practically worthless, according to the government petition charging the defendants with a scheme to use the mails to defraud. The men are charged with selling the lands to persons in all parts of the United States.

The company alleged the lands were ready for instant cultivation, while in fact only a small portion was free from alkali covering, the government charged.

The lands sold for $200. The government alleged the company sold many times the acreage they owned.

More than 200 witnesses will be called by the government and the trial is expected to last more than six weeks. Judge W. C. Lindsey will hear the case.

TRIOUBLED WATERS WORRY MUSSOLINI

(United Press.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Italy, believing that French occupation of the Ruhr constitutes a dangerous situation, is now undertaking to bring about a peaceful settlement of this great European problem. It was learned from authoritative diplomatic quarters here today.

The Mussolini government is sounding out the various governments in the hope that some common ground for settlement may be found. Thus extending its good offices, it has made a virtual offer of mediation to the European powers.

Despite this move by Italy diplomatic quarters here tonight were inclined to regard the reparations situation as dark as ever.

SHARP NOTE ON MEMEL AFFAIR

Germany Files Protest With Kovno Government Which Is Virtual Breaking Off Of Relations With That Nation, Advises Declare.

(International News Service.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Germany has sent a note of protest to Lithuania against the seizure of Memel by Lithuanian rebel forces, it was announced at the Lithuanian legation here tonight.

Attaches of the legation said the action of the German foreign office constituted a virtual breaking off of diplomatic relations between the two countries, as Germany simultaneously broke off negotiations for a commercial treaty with Lithuania, and informed the newly appointed Lithuanian minister to Lithuania not to present his credentials.

An official dispatch received at the legation tonight from Kovno stated that the Lithuanian minister to Berlin protesting against the seizure of Memel and his seizure by rebel forces under Vilius Gajauskas. The note broke off negotiations for an economic treaty between Germany and Lithuania, which had reached an advanced stage, and notified Lithuania that Germany was appointing a minister to Lithuania, S. Olshausen, just arrived in Kovno has been instructed not to present his credentials.

A very large labor demonstration was held in Kovno yesterday in sympathy with the insurgents at Memel and celebrating their victory. Lithuania has a well equipped army of 100,000 men in readiness to move and Lithuania asserted this force is capable of handling any expedition which France or Britain would care to send against them while conditions remain as they are in central Europe and the Near East.

Kansas Senator Attempts Suicide Following Arrest

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 20.—Within less than ten hours after he had been arrested here for alleged drunkenness, State Representative John F. Manary, of Elkhart, tonight fired a bullet into his left temple, according to an announcement made by police. Physicians said his wound would prove fatal.

Action was begun in the house today by Attorney General C. G. Griffith and Charles Mann, speaker of the house, to oust Manary from the state legislature, on a charge of being an unbecoming legislator.

"He could not face the disgrace," friends here said tonight, after Manary's unconscious form was found in his room, a pistol clutched in his fingers.

Try Assault Case Against Well Known Movie Star Monday

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 20.—Charges made in behalf of Dorothy Dandridge, a well known dancer, against Herbert Rawlinson, widely known screen star, were scheduled today to be aired Monday when her suit for $100,000 against the actor comes up in superior court. The suit was brought in the name of the young dancer by her mother, Mrs. Ethel Clark.

The complaint recited that Rawlinson attacked Miss Clark in a New York apartment of October 15, 1920, when the girl was 18 years old. Rawlinson denied the charge.

25,000 Anthracite Miner sThreaten Quit Work Monday

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 20.—Representatives of approximately 25,000 anthracite coal miners employed by the Hudson Coal company between Plymouth and Carbondale gathered here late this afternoon and threatened to strike Monday. The workers charge the company with violation of several sections of the new contract which was signed last September. Feeling against the company is very bitter and officials of the miners are having difficulty in keeping the men in hand. Grievances of the men have been made public for several weeks but none have been adjusted to the satisfaction of the employees.

Fail to Oust Lodge As Leader of G. O. P.

AN UNEQUALLED TRIBUTE PAID WALLACE REID

Mortal Remains of "Play Boy" Of Silver Screen Given Honors of Magnitude Seldom Accorded, Except for Martyred Lincoln.

THOUSANDS PASS BY BIER OF DEAD ACTOR

As Hour For Service Approaches Streets Are Blocked For Half a Mile In Four Directions From the Church—Body Is Cremated.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—In a hospital in Hollywood a man died Thursday. Today his mortal remains were paid a tribute of magnitude unequalled for kings. No other man or woman in public life, save perhaps a martyred Lincoln, ever received such tribute. Wallace Reid, fallen idol of the screen. Only three others—two men and a woman, would perhaps receive an equal tribute as this boy—while by the magic carpet of the screen in life's brief moments to pinnacles undreamed of but a scant decade ago.

(United Press.) LOS ANGELES, Calif., Jan. 20.—Wallace Reid "play boy" of the screen, was at rest tonight.

From the early hours of the morning until late afternoon thousands of people lined the streets leading through Hope street to the First Congregational church to view for the last time their favorite, Wallace Reid. As the hour for the services drew near, the streets were blocked for half a mile in four directions from the church.

Then the services. A hushed church, banked in flowers. Thousands of bowed heads. The street, scarcely a sound in the midst of a great city.

"Ashes to ashes— A sob from a woman near the door. The services and the emulated body is carried to the white hearse, in the shadowed dusk the crowds move slowly away. The captains and the kings of movieland depart."

Never before has such a personal tribute been paid to a man or woman in Los Angeles—a tribute and a demonstration that would be exceeded for no statesman, no philosopher, no philanthropist, no man or woman in public life, or without.

Women sobbed as they filed through the dim-lit church and passed the casket, while many a child, with its face, lined with marks of torture, calm at last. One glance told the story—"dope."

HOWAT STIRS 'EM UP AFTER FREED

Says He Will Start Fight Again Attends Big Celebration Monday.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 20.—Breathing defiance, Alexander Howat, who was released from prison for contempt for violating the Kansas Industrial court law was re-arrested by order of District Judge Dan Wootley, tonight at his home here declared that the fight which resulted in original jailing would go on.

"I'm not through fighting," declared Howat. "I never will quit fighting until the Kansas miner gets a square deal for his union, the state and the operators."

Release of Howat and August Dorsey, former vice president of the Kansas district of the United Mine Workers of America of which Howat was formerly head, and Jack Fleming, H. Earl Maxwell, Will Tutus and James McIlwraith, former members of the union's committee, will be celebrated throughout the coal fields Monday with a monster mass meeting at Franklin, at which Howat will be the chief speaker.

Howat at the meeting Monday is expected to outline his future plans of a fight against both the industrial court of Kansas and the international officers of the United Mine Workers of America from which organization he has been expelled.

ANTI-KLAN BILL

UP FOR PASSAGE

Makes It Unlawful to Impose Any Penalties Unless Empowered.

Among half a dozen bills on the calendar of the house for third reading and final passage when it reconvenes Monday is the Strethlow measure aimed at the Ku Klux Klan. This bill got through committee of the whole with 55 votes for it, which is four more than the number necessary to pass it. In case it goes through, it will probably be substituted in the senate for the Gumb-Tomek bill on the same subject.

Strethlow bill does not name the Ku Klux Klan, but makes it unlawful for any persons, except those lawfully empowered to do so, to declare, impose or administer a penalty of any kind. Legally incorporated or chartered organizations are not included in its provisions, so far as rules and regulations affecting their own members are concerned.

It forbids meetings held by persons in disguise to determine the guilt or innocence of others or to carry out threats for real or pretended offenses. Jail imprisonment for the first offense and petty fine for the second are specified.

Another matter due to come up in the house Monday is the Collins resolution aimed at stop lobbying by state officials and other persons on the state payroll for the purpose of getting their appropriations increased. While the resolution would stop certain activities of the holders, it would not interfere with their appearing before the finance committee of the house and presenting their respective claims.

OMAHA PREPARES FOR RETAILERS

Nebraska Federation Will Hold Convention February
19 to 21.

Program of Entertainment For Visitors Is Being Arranged.

Omaha merchants are sparing neither efforts nor money to make the entertainment feature of the program attractive and snappy at the convention of the Federation of Nebraska Retailers to be held at the Fontenelle hotel, February 19-21. J. J. Hasley, merchandising manager of the Burgess-Nash company is chairman of the entertainment committee and is ably assisted by Ernest Bluff, John E. secretary of the Omaha Retail Grocers' association, W. A. Ellis, secretary of the Omaha Manufacturers' association; J. W. Metcalfe, secretary, Omaha Associated Retailers, and L. B. Clough of the M. E. Smith and company.

Mr. Hasley, in reporting to C. W. Watson, general secretary of the federation, concerning the entertainments which his committee has provided said:

"Between the hours of 9 and 12 Monday evening, the members of the federation and their ladies will be the guests of the Omaha Retail Grocers' association at an informal dance and entertainment given in the ball room of the Fontenelle hotel. The grocers are securing the services of one of the best orchestras in Omaha. They are providing some entertainment with this dance, and I am sure this will prove to be an evening's amusement that will be greatly enjoyed."

"On Tuesday afternoon, the wives and daughters of the visiting Retailers of Omaha will act as hostesses to the ladies of the convention at a bridge tea party to be given in the Brandeis grill room at 2:30. Tuesday evening, immediately following the Paper and String Club banquet, the Associated Retailers, have arranged a program to top off the banquet."

"The wives and daughters of the manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers, will be hostesses to the visiting ladies at a theatre party Wednesday afternoon. At 6:30 Wednesday evening, the manufacturers, wholesalers, and jobbers will give a dinner, a dance, and a special entertainment. They have prepared a novel program for the evening's entertainment."

AUXILIARY WANTS MORE MEMBERS

State-Wide Campaign Now On
Will Continue Until February First.

The Lincoln American Legion auxiliary, which now has over 200 members, expects to have a membership this year of four or five hundred. This is an organization primarily to aid and assist ex-service men of the world war and their families.

The state department inaugurated a statewide membership campaign several weeks ago to close February 1, prizes to be given to the units having the largest per cent of increase in membership. The prizes include a large silk United States flag, an illuminated emblem for ritualistic work, and a framed picture of the painting, "America."

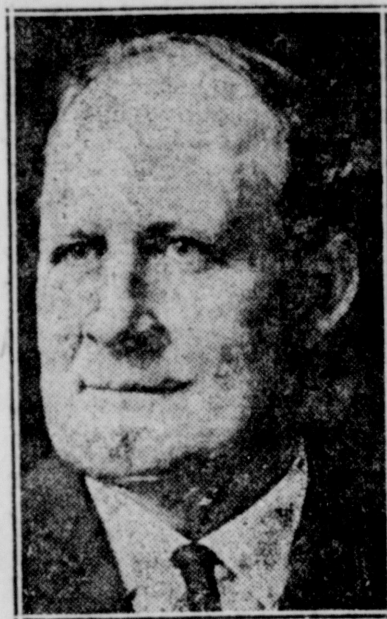

Forty or fifty Lincoln women are at present engaged in visiting the families of all legion members in order to get their mothers, wives, sisters and daughters to join the auxiliary. The relatives of deceased ex-service men are also eligible to this organization. Not only Lincoln, but also Havelock, University Place and Bethany are furnishing their quota of new members. Anyone desiring to join may do so by phoning Mrs. C. E. McClaskey, president, or Mrs. C. I. Smith, chairman of the membership committee.

Visit the Disabled.

Only twenty or twenty-five ex-service men are in the hospitals here but several hundred disabled men are in the vocational training school at the university and in their homes. Some of these men are bed-fast from the effects of gas, tuberculosis and many other diseases. The auxiliary women make weekly visits to as many of these families as possible. The welfare committee will this week distribute food, kindling and clothing to the families of ex-service men out of work.

On a recent trip, the welfare committee found one family east of town with the father sick and out of work. The mother, with two children to care for, was bending over the wash tub trying to earn a livelihood for them. Another family was found living in a place so small that it could not be called a house and was only covered with corrugated paper.

Just Plain Farmer Heads Banking and Medical Committees

REPRESENTATIVE TROY L. DAVIS.

Usually in making up the standing committee of the legislature they choose a banker as chairman of the banking committee and a physician to preside over the medical committee. But they are doing things differently this year.

A plain farmer was selected to head both these committees. The choice was made in each case by the members of the committee, and Troy L. Davis of Cass county was the man selected in both instances.

Mr. Davis is not even a stockholder in a bank, and he has never studied nor practiced medicine. His fellow members just liked his looks and ways. Besides, he was a member of the committee on committees and had helped the rest of them to get the assignments they wanted on standing committees.

The two chairmanships were tendered to Davis without any campaign on his part.

PARKING RULES BEFORE COUNCIL

Resolution For Two Hour
Limit—Expected to Be Passed.

The passage of the resolution which is to provide for a two hour parking limit in the business section of Lincoln and for a five minute stopping limit around the post-office, will be the most important matter before the city council when it meets in regular session Monday afternoon.

The resolution is to be immediately effective and will in all probability be in force on Tuesday. The two hour parking limit applies to most of the business streets, which will be marked off by signs as fast as the city can prepare them. The time limit is effective only during the daytime. Cars may be parked in the evenings as long as the owner wishes.

The postoffice regulations are different. There a car is not allowed to park at all, but may stop parallel with the curb for not more than five minutes at a time. This place will be white lined.

May Re-Ship Grain From Lincoln With No Added Charges

Shipments of grain to Lincoln from all points within a radius of 150 miles may be stored or milled in transit, and re-shipped to the Pacific coast now without extra charge for the out-of-line haul.

The traffic bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, recently presented a request to the Burlington asking that grain shipments from the west, northwest and south, from points within 150 miles of Lincoln, be allowed to be re-shipped to points west without extra charge. The request was granted.

Formerly only shipments from the east or north were under the special rating and shipments could be made only to the east. Now wheat can be shipped to Lincoln from all points and be reshipped to any state west of the Rockies, as well as the eastern states, without charge for the extra haulage.

This new ruling is expected to greatly increase the shipments of grain to Lincoln, especially those of corn and wheat.

Dear Sirs:

Just twenty years ago today I took out a policy of $1000. My family have had the full protection of this amount during the full twenty years and have paid in $637.00 and today your general agent, Chas. M. Stewart, has handed me your draft for $836.20.

In this, I am drawing back every cent I have paid in and nearly $200 besides having had the protection for nothing. I don't know where one could beat this for cheap insurance and hope every young person will take the trouble to look over your proposition as I think it one of the best forms of savings and protection there is.

I am very glad to recommend your good company to all my friends, and wish to thank you very kindly for this prompt and satisfactory settlement.

Yours very truly,

The Strength of Years

SHIFT the scenes backward to the beginnings of The First National Bank of Lincoln in 1871 and you will find the people of Lincoln walking on unpaved streets and wooden sidewalks; you discover that business was confined almost exclusively to retail merchandising, the fur industry and salt manufacturing.

During the intervening fifty-two years, this bank has been a great factor in the development of Lincoln. The officers have assisted in the establishment of many enterprises. With friendly co-operation they have assisted young men and young businesses to build upon a solid foundation. Out of it all the bank has crystallized the experience and strength that grow only with the flight of time.

LECTURE RECITAL ON RUSSIAN MUSIC

A. A. U. W. Enjoys Program
By Mrs. W. O. Jones at Frank Woods Home.

Musicians Suffering Under Soviet Control But Standards Not Lowered.

Between two and three hundred members and guests of the American Association of University Women enjoyed the lecture-recital on Russian music given by Mrs. Will Owen Jones Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Woods for the benefit of the A. A. U. W. scholarship fund.

Mrs. Jones said that the Slavs have always been a music-loving people although music as an art is only a century old. The folk songs stand alone with only those of Norway to be compared with them. The first attempts to develop a national music made use of the folk songs. But soon the Italian influence crept into the Russian music. It is very marked in the compositions of Glinka who was born in 1804.

Soon there arose two cliques, the nationalists and those who inclined toward the music of western Europe. The nationalists were represented by the "five composers," as they were generally known: Balakirev, Gluck, Borodin, Moussorgsky and Rimsky-Korsakov. Tchaikowsky and Rubinstein represent the opposing clique. Tchaikowsky's influence was greatest in spreading the music outside of Russia.

Mrs. Jones went into the more important details of the lives of these composers and then took up still later ones. She spoke of Rachmaninoff and then of Scriabine and Stravinsky who, she said, are the two famous composers of the present and future. Scriabine died in 1915, but his later compositions are still beyond the comprehension of most musicians. Scriabine had the theory that color and perfume should be used in connection with music to produce an effect, but he was unable to carry this to a successful development. Stravinsky is now 40 years old and composes in a futurist style.

Although the music of Russia has been taken over by the soviet government and the musicians have suffered financially the standards have not been lowered.

Mrs. Jones played the following piano numbers to illustrate her lecture:

Chopin—Nocturne in E-flat major, opus 9—Scriabine.

Part of slow movement from fifth symphony—Tchaikowsky.

Prelude, G major.

Humoresque—Rachmaninoff.

Concert waltz written by Glazounov for orchestra, transcribed by Blumfeld for piano.

Social After Recital.

A social time was enjoyed after the recital when punch and wafers were served, with Mrs. Samuel Avery and Mrs. W. E. Hardy at the table. Social arrangements were in charge of Mrs. J. M. Mayhew assisted by Mrs. John M. Stewart, Mrs. J. J. Snipes, Mrs. Elly Davis, Mrs. A. A. Reed, Mrs. Lucile Becker, Mrs. Carl Humstead, and Misses Amanda Hennepin, Marguerite McPhee, Clara McPhee, Marjorie Barstow, Dorothy Colburn, Madeline Girard, Winifred Mayhew and Emma Westerman.

Before the lecture-recital, Mrs. Maurice Deutsch, president, read the list of colleges and universities that have recently been admitted to the A. A. U. W. The Nebraska schools on the list were Doane, Colner, Creighton and Wesleyan.

The $1,000 scholarship for a year's college work abroad will be open for applications by members of the A. A. U. W. until February 1.

The next meeting of the A. A. U. W. will be held the third Saturday in February in the Art gallery of the university during the art exhibition.

Railroad Hotel Is Wrecked By Blast

CORBIN, Ky., Jan. 20.—Two men were injured, one seriously and fifteen other persons were shaken when the Meadows House, occupied chiefly by employees of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, was dynamited late today.

The house was used by strike-breakers of the Louisville & Nashville shops. Officials of the road tonight posted a $5,000 reward for the arrest of the dynamiters.

The charges apparently had been timed to explode at noon when all occupants would be present.

HOUSE SHOWS SPEED.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—A congressional record of twenty years standing was broken tonight when the house completed work on the legislative appropriation bill, carrying a total of $12,600,000, the last of the eleven big supply bills of the fiscal year 1923-24. The bill will be finally passed early next week.

AN UNEQUALLED TRIBUTE PAID WALLACE REID

Its ravages had left on his features the marks of suffering and pain. Had those who passed not known, many would not have recognized the face as that of Wally Reid.

Banked about the bier were the hundreds of magnificent floral pieces sent in tribute by his fellow stars.

Studios of Hollywood were closed throughout the day. Mourning crepe hung on the door of the great Lasky studio where for eight years Wally Reid happily lived his parts, and won his fight to fame and fortune.

Tonight the "play boy of the screen" was but a mortal memory. His body was cremated at the Forest Lawn cemetery in conformance to his wishes.

Mrs. Reid Near Collapse.

Near collapse his widow, Dorothy Davenport Reid, tonight hugged to her heart "Filly," her boy—and Wally's pal—and Betty, their 3-year-old, adopted daughter. Sadness hung over the beautiful De Longpre street mansion with its draw blind. Mrs. Alice Davenport, Dorothy's mother, tried to comfort her, but to no avail. Only a few close friends remained with them.

Mrs. Reid did not go to the cemetery. She returned directly to her home, where the two children, only understanding vaguely the tragedy that had come to them, had played thoughtlessly during the hours when their father was being honored by countless thousands.

Wally Reid is but a memory on the "lots" of Hollywood, and yet before the eyes of countless thousands he will live upon the screen.

a murder charge (twice); E. Newt Grey, church deacon and wealthy farmer (twice); Oliver Skpwith son of the exiled cyclops, as a guard on the murder truck; Smith Stevens, formerly night watchman of Bastrop, as a driver of the murder truck, and "Blacksmith" Smith, presumably "Dago" Smith, a blacksmith.

Excitement Grips Parish.

Tonight the parish is buzzing with unceasing excitement. Rumbles of an approaching storm were heard and men gathered on the street corners to talk in whispers.

The danger of an outbreak has already led to one fight between warm friends, which ended in the slaying of John P. Parker, Jr., a wealthy planter of Monroe by Carl Calhoun, a witness at the hearing, and brother of two men closely identified with the investigation.

Gang Holds Up Woman.

Mrs. B. D. Carlisle, wife of a farmer, while an unwilling witness, renewed the identification of the eff. Burnett as a member of the "murder mob." She declared she recognized Burnett and a "blacksmith" named Smith as men who had held her up on the Bastrop road August 24. Her identification of Burnett was positive.

The testimony of four farmers ordered deported by the black masks took up most of the day's session. Each received a notice which included this exile order:

"You will therefore, accept this as a notice and warning to you to depart from this parish at the expiration of ten days from the time of receipt of same, never to return, again. If you fail to obey this order, you must stand the consequences."

It was signed "vigilance committee" and each one obeyed the order. H. C. Osborne, incidentally, revealed that he had been whipped by the mob prior to his deportation.

Bud Hood, W. W. White and John San, all living near Bastrop, were other witnesses, but none gave any new evidence.

The hearing will be resumed Monday.

Carroll and His Aides Make Seven
Arrests in Dodge

Chief Law Enforcement Officer T. W. Carroll and his assistants Schmitt, Jones and Gates made seven arrests in Dodge county and one in Saunders county Saturday for alleged violations of the liquor laws, in cooperation with Sheriff W. C. Condit and the Fremont police they arrested Joseph Saliba and wife, Frances, who operate a restaurant, and Max Ishinger and Cresson Porby, all of Fremont. At Cooper, Albert Schaffer was taken into custody and two gallons of liquor found on his premises. Chief Carroll said, Lee Samson of North Bend, and his assistant, Matt Eklund, were arrested and will face charges of sale and possession.

Louis L. Urban, who was arrested at Morse Bluffs, pleaded guilty to sale and possession when arraigned before the county judge at Wahoo, and was fined $200 and costs.

SECRETARY POOL TABULATES VOTE

At Last State Election 407,673 Persons Cast Their Ballots.

There are 407,673 voters of both sexes in the state of Nebraska, as disclosed by an official tabulation of the total vote cast at the state election November 7, made by Secretary of State Pool. As men's and women's votes are not kept separate from each other, the number of each cannot be ascertained.

On assuming charge of his office, Mr. Pool found that the total vote had not been compiled by his predecessor, D. M. Amsherry, for the primary and general elections either in 1922 or in 1920. In former years, this was always done and the state law seems to require it, as initiative and referendum petition percentages are based upon the total vote.

It was assumed by ex-Secretary Amsherry that the total vote was simply the sum of all votes cast for the head of the ticket; but experience has shown that in all elections many persons fail to mark their ballots for all candidates. The correct totals the actual number of ballots cast and counted.

Of the 407,673 persons who voted at the recent election, 16,233 did not indicate on their ballots any preference for governor, as only 391,440 votes were counted on that office. For United States Senator, 19,822 votes were counted on that office, the total vote being 387,691.

Strictly speaking, there were not so many who omitted to vote on senator, as some wrote in the names of persons who were not regular party nominees but the election board made no returns thereon and the votes so cast were not officially counted.

Secretary of State Pool's summary of the shortage of votes on other state offices is as follows:

Summary is Compiled.

Lieutenant governor—Total, 374,114; number failing to vote, 23,559.

Secretary of State, Total, 372,903; number failing to vote, 34,770.

Auditor—Total, 362,026; number failing to vote, 45,652.

Land Commissioner—Total, 364,091; number failing to vote, 43,582.

Treasurer—Total, 367,629; number failing to vote, 40,044.

Attorney general—Total, 361,701; number failing to vote, 45,972.

Railway commissioner—Total, 367,354; number failing to vote, 40,319.

Superintendent—Total, 357,397; number failing to vote, 50,276.

Names of candidates for state superintendent are printed on the non-political ballot, while the other officers in this list are party candidates.

There were approximately 5400 persons who voted on governor but expressed no choice for superintendent.

Secretary Pool expects to make a similar tabulation of the election returns for 1920 if he can find the original official returns sent in by county clerks on pollbooks.

Seven Guilty On Conspiracy Charge

DAYTON, Ohio, Jan. 20.—Marl L. Gray, Nashville, Tenn.; A. M. Mason, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Cecil N. Kerns, W. E. Tullheim and Nathan Bornstein, Columbus; C. W. Wesel and Zenhor Ross, Columbus, were found guilty of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act by a jury in federal court here at 10 o'clock tonight.

They were charged with obtaining $200,000 worth of grain alcohol at the Old Hermitage warehouse in Tennessee, which was supposed to have been denatured, but witnesses testified the denaturing fluid had been destroyed and the liquor diverted to bootleggers.

REAL TREAT FOR LOVERS OF MUSIC

Third Free Vesper Matinee
Concert To Be Given
Sunday Afternoon.

High School Glee Clubs and Prominent Soloists Offer Program.

Lincoln music-lovers are promised a real treat in the third free vesper matinee concert to be given under the auspices of the board of education in the Lincoln high school auditorium Sunday afternoon, January 21, at 3 o'clock. An attractive musical program will be given at that time by the high school boys' glee club and the high school girls' glee club, under the direction of H. O. Ferguson, director of music of the public schools. These glee clubs, like the high school orchestra, have reached a degree of proficiency in training which insure a rare treat for all who can possibly get into the auditorium. The glee clubs will be ably assisted by two of Lincoln's recognized soloists, Lillian Helms-Polley, soprano, and Koby Sirinsky, violinist.

This is a splendid opportunity to hear Lincoln's violin virtuoso and a soprano of rare musical skill.

"I am delighted with the interest Lincoln patrons have shown in these concerts," declared Supt. M. C. Lester "and I am sure all will be greatly interested in the excellent program prepared for the third number of the series."

"I have watched the growth of interest and appreciation in these concerts," declared Adrian M. Newens, of the University school of music, "and I have been delighted with the evidences that so many working people in Lincoln appreciate music of such high class. I talked with a number of laboring men, who with their families attended the concerts, and they declared that they had attended no other programs that had given them so much pleasure and satisfaction."

The people of Lincoln generally have supported these concerts in such large numbers that the board of education and those in immediate charge of directing the programs have repeatedly expressed themselves as being thoroughly convinced of the need of such a free concert series of musical entertainment for the city of Lincoln.

The program to be given at 3 o'clock in the high school auditorium this afternoon, is here given in full: Sea Fever—Mark Andrews.

The Sweetest Flower That Blooms, C. B. Hawley.

Good Night, Dudley Buck.

Boys' Glee club, H. O. Ferguson, director.

Recit. and aria, "With Verdure Clad," Haydn.

In the Time of Roses, Reichardt.

Snow Fairies, Forsyth.

Little Brother's Lullaby, Old Flemish.

The Year's at the Spring, Mrs. H. A. Ranch.

Lillian - Helms-Polley, soprano.

Marguerite Klinger, accompanist.

Legende Wienawski.

Concerto—B major, Finaie, Vieuxtemps.

Indian Lament, Dvorak-Kriesler.

Koby Sirinsky, violinist.

Helen Mueller, accompanist.

Canta—Spring Rapture—Harvey B. Gaul.

Girls' glee club, H. O. Ferguson, director.

Henry Kolling, pianist.

COMMUNITY CHORUS.

(Special to The Star.)

FAIRBURY, Neb., Jan. 20.—Fairbury has a community chorus of 100 voices under the direction of J. E. Carnal of Omaha. The chorus was organized two weeks ago and it is expected that the number will soon reach 200. In the near future the chorus will give a program the proceeds to be used in financing the organization.

BUSINESS MOSTLY ON STEADY LEVEL

(International News Service.) NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—A possible strike in the soft coal fields and the possibility of far-reaching disturbances in Europe were the chief clouds upon the business horizon today. Through the efforts of the United States coal commission, a fuel strike may be averted, but the outcome of the European situation cannot be foreseen.

There are large stocks of surplus coal on hand due to the mildness of the winter. Money continues plentiful, and cheap, but a steady rise in the cost of living is causing much anxiety. The new bonds issued this week totalled over $292,000,000. Cotton touched new high price levels and is still holding between 25 and 26 cents a pound.

Railway freight traffic is heavier than usual, for this time of year, due to good weather. Dry goods firms report larger wholesale orders than this time last year, and better collections.

Fewer Business Failures. Bradstreet reported 340 business failures this week, against 553 last week. Most of them were in the southern states.

The average price of twenty representative industrial issues of the New York stock exchange was 97.87 against 98.63 last week and 62.42 this week last year. The average price of twenty representative railway shares was $5.33, against $5.09 last week and 75.67 this week last year.

Bank clearings of the entire country were estimated this week at $8,323, 117, 795 against $7,886,299,165 the week before and $7,110,933,026 this week last year.

The rate on money for call loans ranged from 3 per cent to 4 per cent. Ninety-day loans were made at 4 1/2 per cent.

Heavy Cotton Sales. High prices caused heavy selling by cotton growers throughout the week. The demand came both from speculators and trade interests. The amount of the crop brought into sight was 176,636 bales against 191,120 bales last week and 173,391 bales this week last year. The exports were 101,498 bales this week against 112,566 bales last week and 117,110 bales this week last year. The visible supply of American cotton this week was 3,516,933 bales against 3,648,731 bales last week.

Wheat growers in parts of Illinois, Kansas, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas are complaining that dry weather is retarding their winter wheat. The visible supply of wheat decreased 359,900 bushels this week. There was a moderate movement of grain owing to increased farm consumption. The farmers are feeding more corn owing to low prices.

TIGERS HEAD FOR NEBRASKA CAMP

Missouri U. Basketball Team Due In Lincoln Monday to Meet Huskers.

Browning, Tiger Forward, Top Man In Valley Individual Point Table.

THIS WEEK'S SCHEDULE.
Monday—Missouri at Nebraska; Washington at Ames.
Tuesday—Washington at Drake.
Thursday—Nebraska at Drake.
Friday—Nebraska at Ames.
Saturday—Nebraska at Grinnell.

The past week witnessed the first conflict between Kansas and Missouri, at that time the two leading teams in the Missouri Valley conference basketball race. Kansas defeated the Tigers, 21 to 19, and temporarily eliminated them from the race.

This week does not see many games, due probably to the fact that semester examinations are being held in most of the institutions. Missouri will complete its third victory by defeating Nebraska in Lincoln Monday night and Washington will play Ames Monday and Drake Tuesday.

Nebraska starts an Iowa invasion Thursday, playing Drake. It will then engage Ames and Grinnell in the order named.

Captain Browning of the Missouri team continues to lead the scorers of the Valley, being a total of 87 points in five contests. Ackerman of Kansas is second with 66 in seven games. Bowman of Kansas is third with 50 in seven games, while Hartley Wilhelm, Drake captain, is fourth with 49 points in four contests.

Browning is the leading field goals leader with thirty. Ackerman is second with seventeen, while Bowman and Walf of Kansas and Raff of Ames are tied for third honors with fourteen each. Raff is a corner in the Valley and, although a little small, is a wonderful shot and has basketball sense.

Ackerman is the leading free thrower with thirty-two, while Wilhelm and Browning are tied for second with twenty-seven each.

Devine of Drake leads the league in two respects—he has more fouls and has been elected from more games. He has committed thirteen fouls and has been retired three times.

Pocket Billiard Champion Shows Off In Lincoln

Ralph Greenleaf, world's champion pocket billiard player, and Tom Hueston, former champion at three-cushions and pocket billiards, displayed their cue skill in two public exhibitions Saturday afternoon and evening at the Brunswick Parlors on South Eleventh.

Greenleaf was the victor in both matches, winning the afternoon contest, 50 to 139, and outpointing Hueston, 125 to 92, in the evening.

Hueston annexed high run honors in the evening by pocketing 53 balls in a string, while Greenleaf came back with a break of 48, a freeze between two balls, giving him an impossible shot, calling a halt on his run.

An exhibition of fancy shots by both cue wizards round out the two programs. A crowded house saw the evening match. Greenleaf, and Hueston, who are touring the west on the way to the Pacific coast, departed Saturday night for Kansas City.

Buckeye Clear Big Profit In Football

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 20.—Ohio State university picked up a neat income of $159,963 from the first football season in its new million dollar stadium.
Five games in the stadium drew an attendance of 150,457, which more than doubled the best previous record, including two games away from home, at Illinois and Minnesota, the Ohio State team played to more than 200,000 spectators.
Even with a most successful season, Ohio State starts 1923 with obligations of $550,000 in addition to operating expenses, as a result of unpaid subscriptions to the stadium fund.

Mitchell Signs to Meet Omaha Boy

FULTON SEEKS WHIRL AT JESS

Plasterer Bidding For Crack at Willard, But Drives Up Trifle Late.

BY HENRY J. FARRELL.
NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Suddenly, from nowhere in particular, the lanky form of Fred Fulton, the plasterer from Minnesota, loomed above the heavyweight mob tonight.
"I got this fellow Willard once and I can take him again. I got $25,000 that I can take him," the plasterer wired to Jimmy Johnston, one time boy bandit of Madison Square Garden.

Johnston, after learning that the plasterer was really in possession of $25,000, agreed to take upon himself the duties of a manager.

He soon found that Willard was not open to offers of any kind and in his search for other purses he stumbled across Charley Cook, who is managing Floyd Johnson, the young Iowa sensation and aspirant for the heavyweight championship.

Floyd is matched with Tom Gibbons of St. Paul for the big bout of the winter in March, and wants to get a couple of good matches under his belt before he meets Tommy.

Cook had just about decided to sign up for Johnson against Fulton, when Madison Square Garden found out about it.

Fulton Out of Luck.
"Is this Cook?" the conversation ran over the phone. "You pay off that guy, Fulton. He's a bum, yes, he's got a terrible left hand, and your boy don't like a left hand. Anyway, what do you get by beating him? If you want a workout on someone, leave that plasterer alone!"

The edict thus having been passed officially, it is a safe bet that Fulton has been too late in making his debut. He might get a match with Harry Wills, but Wills would be too eager for it. The plasterer never did like big men and he always liked little men until ten seconds after the opening of the first round with Dempsey.

Tex Rickard is trying to arrange a bout now between Bill Brennan, the doorman at the heavyweight throne room, and Luis Angel Firpo, title holder of the Argentine.

As for Jack Dempsey's next contest is concerned, it is sure that it will be Tommy Gibbons if the St. Paul schapper succeeds in beating Floyd Johnson, and there is little doubt about that.

SARAZEN INSISTS ON TRIP TO EUROPE

American Golf Champ Beat On Journey, Regardless of Club's Decree.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH.
(International News Service.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—It was reported today that official overtures are to be made to the board of directors of Briar Cliff Lodge petitioning a change of heart in its decision to forbid Gene Sarazen's proposed trip to Troon, England, next summer for his final at the British open golf championship.

This is to be the first step in a great systematic campaign to force the ultra aloof organization to retreat from its impossible position and give its sanction, however reluctantly, to the project. The approval will be forthcoming as soon as it is made evident that the American champion will elect himself a member of the invading team regardless of Briar Cliff Lodge's attitude on the question, as it is claimed he will.

It is even intimated that Sarazen will go so far as to begin tearing his $10,000 contract through its geonetric center if the lodge board perseveres in its decision. He will not, of course, actually deface the document, which is of very tasteful design and highly interesting content.

The draft deed may never be necessary, however, in view of the fact that the club's position is fast becoming untenable in the public's eyes.

HUSKER MATMEN WIN FROM PURPLE

Nebraska Wrestlers Display Needed Class to Defeat Northwestern.

University of Nebraska wrestlers opened the 1923 season Saturday night by turning in a victory over Northwestern university in a dual meet at the university armory.
The "Big Ten" grapplers were outclassed from the start. Probst opened the meet by winning a decision and the Cornhuskers were off to a three point lead. Captain Troutman and Renner on Nebraska gave the meet a spectacular finale by dumping their Purple opponents in handy fashion.

Nebraska's victory was the result of five matches won, two by falls and three by decisions. Probst, Isaacson and Pickwell turned in decisions while Troutman and Renner won their matches by the fall route.

Troutman Wins Quick.
Captain Troutman's work featured the evening. The Nebraska leader was pitted against Martin in the 175 pound class. Troutman rushed his man and had him flat on his back the first few seconds. A body scissors and wristlock resulted in a fall a little over a minute after the match opened.

In the heavyweight event, Renner of Nebraska was behind his man at the outset and after remaining behind a little over six minutes he launched an offensive which soon had Goodman, Northwest wrestler, on his back.

Renner applied the pressure and pressed Goodman's shoulders to the pad. Captain Hines and Hathaway were the only Northwest wrestlers to win events. Hines took a decision from Kellogg, while Hathaway won a decision from Reed, although the Nebraska had the better of the argument at the close of the twelve minute period.

The Summary.
115-pound class—Probst, Nebraska, won from Jenness, Northwestern, by decision. Advantage of 11 minutes 30 seconds.
125-pound class—Hines, Northwestern, won from Kellogg, Nebraska, by decision. Advantage of 8 minutes 5 seconds.

135-pound class—Isaacson, Nebraska, won from Root, Northwestern, by decision. Advantage of 6 minutes 45 seconds.
145-pound class—Pickwell, Nebraska, won from Fisher, Northwestern, by decision. Advantage of 10 minutes 49 seconds.

158-pound class—Hathaway, Northwestern, won from Reed, Nebraska, by decision. Advantage of 2 minutes 30 seconds. Body scissors and wristlock.
Heavyweight class—Renner, Nebraska, won from Goodman, Northwestern, by fall in 8 minutes 5 seconds. Body scissors and arm lock.

Outing Magazine's "National Football Roll of Honor" made public Saturday night in New York, confers new laurels on the 1922 University of Nebraska Cornhuskers. Eight of Coach Fred Dawson's Cornhusker proteges—a greater number than is accredited to any other college aggregation in the U. S. A.—are listed in Outing's "Honor Roll." The eight Cornhusker football men singled out for individual honors, in competition with the best in the nation, are: Preston, quarterback; Noble and Hartley, backs; Schoepel, end; Weller, tackle; Berquist and Bassett, guards; Peterson, center.

The roster of Nebraska players disclosed that Outing nominated at least one Cornhusker for every position on a football team, California, which made second Nebraska with seven, failed to place a man at

Class B teams of the 1922 interscholastic basketball tournament are now taking stock of their chances to move up in the cage ladder or maintain their position when time for next tournament rolls around.

Ravenna last year's title-holder, seems due for a raise this year. The Buffalo county tossers looked good in their exhibition against Lincoln early this month and turned in a victory over the capital city five while the Red and Black was on its holiday trip.

Sidney high school is another team which should be eligible to file a bid for a better berth if it maintains its early season record.

Four Vets at Seward.
Seward has four letter men this year. Coach Williams has a good looking bunch of new material and expects to make a creditable showing.

North Platte Hi Busy.
North Platte opened the basketball season last week by defeating Lexington, 24 to 12.

Reactor and regulars at center and forward are regulars at the task of coaching. Receptor's task of coaching is a new one.

Three letter men are back in the basketball lineup at Plattsmouth. Plattsmouth has made a good showing in the opening games.

PUEBLO LANDS IN WESTERN LEAGUE

Prexy Tearney Calls Session of Clubowners to Give
O. K. to Transfer.

PUEBLO, Colo., Jan. 20.—Plans were completed here today for the entrance of Pueblo into the Western League next season. President Al Tearney of the Western League announced that he would call a special meeting of the league magnates at Kansas City, Sunday, at which it was expected the Sioux City franchise will be awarded to Pueblo.

Since showing off in Lincoln, Connie Curry, now only 19 years old, and student at Trinity college, gave Springfield a severe pasting for five rounds, but the local boy rallied during the closing session and qualified, in the referee's opinion, for a draw. Curry wasn't accustomed to boxing three-minute rounds and he lacked finishing powers, which was a right lucky break for the Lincoln bantam.

On Trail of Champion Joe.
In Sioux City glove circle today, Connie is rated as a sure bidder for the bantam crown, which he now wears. The brow of Joe Lynch, New York, in fact, Curry has fired frequent challenges at Lynch, suggesting a settlement of the controversy in Sioux City, but the champion is holding off the challenger where the bantams get the "big money."

Curry took his first fling at professional boxing less than two years ago. During his career he has angled in 29 battles, never losing a fight, often getting the winner's share by the knockout route. One of Connie's victims was Benny Vogel, rated in the east as one of the best bantams in the glove game. Vogel, a one-time champion, was defeated by Curry's thirteen best, getting the "big money."

Stanley Everett, opponent of Curry, will be a newcomer in local glove circles, but the mere fact that Tom Jones, once manager of three world champion fighters, is handling and training Everett is a sufficient guarantee of the Peoria boy's ability in the mitten pasture.

Pastebards for the January 26 program were put on sale Saturday at the Saratoga Casino and the usual demand, which included a bunch of orders from adjacent Nebraska towns, apparently justified the prediction that the Disabled Veterans' show will go over with a big bang.

Automobile News

NASH TO ENJOY RECORD SEASON

Great Rush of Orders at the Opening of New Year; Plant Extension.

Nash Motors on January 9, had on hand more orders for delivery this month than were booked in any previous month in the history of the company with the exception of May and June of last year. The year just closed was the greatest twelve months period in the history of the Nash Motors company. Total sales of Nash passenger cars in 1922 more than doubled shipments made the previous year.

One interesting phase of the 1922 record is that the last six months of the year eclipsed the first half period in point of sales. In other words, 1,000 more cars were shipped by the factory from July 1, to December 31, than were shipped between January 1, and June 30, which period included of course, the natural spring demand.

January, February and March, last year started the breaking of Nash previous records with a volume of sales for that period that exceeded the same 1921 period by more than 25 per cent. Then followed April and May, months that made Nash history. The usual mid-summer let-down had no appreciable effect on the Nash demand with the result that during these months, record after record was broken. In September the automobile industry as a whole fell off 24 per cent as against August and in that month Nash Motors gained 8 per cent over August.

Improvements and refinements which began going into Nash cars the latter part of the year and which have been completed for the automobile shows have met with instant approval on the part of the public with the result that for months past the demand has left the factory in an oversold condition. This has resulted in plant extension now in process of completion.

Kimball Company Reports Deliveries

Recent deliveries of Packard cars reported by the Kimball Motor Car corporation are:

Mrs. Frank H. Woods, Sheridan boulevard, Four passenger single-six coupe.

Mrs. Cora H. Calvert, Calvert place, four passenger single-six coupe.

Dr. J. J. Hompes, 545 South Twenty-ninth street, five passenger single-six sedan.

Mrs. W. R. Kimball, 1265 South Twentieth street, five passenger single-six sedan.

One of the greatest dangers in crossing the street comes from vehicles that suddenly emerge from a side street.

Chevrolet Plans For Biggest Year In Its History

The most discussed automobile on the market is Chevrolet which in less than a year's time jumped from seventh to second place in current registrations and yet promises still more sensational developments in 1923.

This car has been on the market about seven years but not until the fall of 1921 was it regarded at all seriously as a contender for leadership in the low-priced field.

At that time a line of new models was brought out embodying important engineering improvements, high-grade bodies on all closed models and prices ranging from $125.00 for the touring car to $175.00 for the 6-passenger sedan (later reduced to $160.00).

The Chevrolet motor had always enjoyed an excellent reputation and the added improvement caused a rapid increase in demand that resulted in a shortage of supply that persisted all during 1922 in spite of double shifts and plant enlargements.

The new models announced in October included marked improvement in design and some added equipment at no advance in price.

As much as the demand for closed cars of all makes has of recent years always exceeded the supply at least part of the year, this new Chevrolet capacity is very important, because as is well-known in the trade, closed car business goes to the concern that can make the quickest delivery.

And now comes the copper-cooled Chevrolet, which has been discussed in engineering and trade circles for more than a year, all sorts of conflicting rumors having circulated regarding its existence, its performance, price, etc.

The practical measure of the remarkable progress of Chevrolet is told by sales figures for the last two years. In 1920, up to that time the motor industry's best year, Chevrolet marketed 153,646 cars. In the motor industry of 1921, sales fell to 71,609 cars. 1922 rolled up the splendid total of 248,900 sales, and production schedules for 1923 are said to be about double the 1922 sales.

Beatrice Man Pleased With Packard's Service

The following letter has been received from C. H. Van Arsdale of Beatrice, who with his family, is en route to Los Angeles, Cal.

"We are driving against a stiff west wind but have made 550 miles in two days and have gotten an average of 17.19-25 miles per gallon of gasoline."

Mr. Van Arsdale is driving a five-passenger single-six sedan and his letter merely confirms the Packard estimate of gasoline mileage which is universal with all Packard single-six cars.

WILLARD BATTERY REMOVES 'NOISES'

Big Help to Radio Fans Who Enjoy Receiving Clear Reports.

"No, I don't take much stock in this radio stuff. I heard a concert last night and I swear they had a victrola attached somewhere. So stated one unbelieving local woman after hearing a radio concert, according to Mr. Robb, Willard service station man here.

What she was alluding to were the "frying" noises that occur in many radio phones. These noises have kept many a radio enthusiast awake nights trying to figure out means of eliminating them.

Radio engineers have traced these "noises" to the polarization which is constantly taking place in the commonly used dry cell "B" battery. It is said that a liquid battery does not produce these characteristic sounds because this sort of internal action does not take place.

The Willard Storage Battery company was one of the first battery manufacturers to recognize the need for a good wet cell "B" battery. They have recently produced a rechargeable battery, each cell of which is enclosed in an individual glass jar.

Extra heavy plates are insulated by this company's threaded rubber insulation, and the entire group is connected in series with burned on lead connectors. Cable clamp connections, fastened to the terminals with set screws make a very rigid contact with the plate circuit.

Orders For Packards Exceed the Supply

During the year 1922 nearly one-half of the orders for Packard cars could not be filled owing to the great demand for Packard product in all parts of the country. There was not enough to go around. Even with an increased factory production for 1923 it is claimed there is liable to be a shortage of cars while our allotment for this year is considerably increased over last year.

"We are unable to supply our dealers with all the cars they want at this time," says Mr. Kimball. "I therefore suggest that even those who have in mind a delivery date several months away, will do well to bear in mind the above facts."

MOTORS AND THEIR CARE

Practical Suggestions for Insuring Longevity of Tires Should Fit Well.

To get the longest mileage out of tires for the rims, and see that they fit snugly.

Proper Wheel Lubrication.

Three thousand miles is the longest distance he wheels should be allowed to run without replenishment of grease.

Do Not Procrastinate.

Cars that are placed in storage or those with necessary repairs delayed at this time of the year cause a decided increase in the repair bills in the spring.

Guard Against Skidding.

Never jam brakes too quickly, especially on a hill, smooth or wet pavement, or other place where the car is likely to slide or skid. This is not only a matter of safety, but also saves tires.

Causes of Broken Springs.

The principal causes of spring breakage are loose axle clips, incorrect heat treatment, fatigue of metal, tight shackles, incorrect design, overloads, careless drying and lack of lubrication.

All-Important Flashlight.

A flashlight included in the equipment of a car is considered extremely valuable for emergency use. It should be kept within reach at all times, and a good plan is to attach two clamps of appropriate size to the dash under the hood to hold the light.

An Emergency Repair.

A slow leak in the tire valve plunger can be sometimes checked by applying a drop of oil in the valve stem. The oil partially dissolves the rubber, and causes it to seal itself to an airtight joint. Of course, the valve is spoiled upon removal, the oil having enabled it to serve the purpose until a new valve could be replaced.

A Non-Freeze Solution.

Glucose is recommended as a preventive of automobile radiator freezing. The amount necessary is between 15 and 20 per cent, or about a pint and a half of glucose to a gallon of water. The glucose may be mixed with enough warm water to completely dissolve it, and then added to the remainder of the water in the radiator. Glucose will not corrode nor affect metal.

Valve Function.

Tapping of valve lifters is caused by faulty valve action and results in loss of power. This tapping indicates that the space is opening up, but on the other hand this space must not close up or lack of compression will result when the engine heats up. The clearance when the engine is cold should be about five-thousandths of an inch, or the thickness of two pieces of newspaper.

Courtesy Cautions.

Don't hog the road. Don't cut in short after passing a vehicle going in the same direction. Don't fail to pull off the highway, if possible, while making necessary repairs.

Don't fail to slow down for children playing near the curb. You can never tell what a child is going to do. Don't fail to dim lights in night traveling when approaching another vehicle coming in the opposite direction.

Don't make yourself a public nuisance by using the "cutout," especially at night, when working people are sleeping.

It is better to ride on the rim when a tire goes bad than on the felloe.

band, if you have no tire to replace. Felloe bands are thin and expensive to repair.

As a warning signal when backing the car sound horn three times.

A weak clutch spring can be repaired temporarily by placing washers under it.

Shutter arrangements for the automobile radiator have their valuable uses for cars in cold weather.

A motorist should remember that cars, gears and power are expensive, but proper lubrication is cheap.

The neglect in tightening bolts or filling grease cups often leads to trouble and frequently a breakdown.

OFFICERS CARVED BY IRATE WOMAN

Carroll, Gates and Schmitt Have Lively Time at Fremont.

Attacked By Proprietor's Wife While Raiding a Restaurant.

(Special to The Star.)
FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 20.—Tom Carroll, chief law enforcement officer and two deputies Milton Gates and Carl Schmitt, were all "carved up" with a knife in the hands of Mrs. Silba when they attempted to raid the Lincoln cafe Saturday evening.

None of the officers was badly hurt. Carroll has a badly cut finger; Gates' hand is cut and Schmitt has a deep scratch on his face. Mrs. Silba, her husband and three children all were locked in jail.

The state officers were assisted by Sheriff W. C. Condit, Chief Brenner of the police and a half dozen policemen.

The attack by Mrs. Silba was a surprise. As she and her husband had the officers in the front of the restaurant, the Silba children destroyed "evidence" in the rear, it is alleged. A pint bottle was secured by Carroll, he said.

Raiders were carried out at two Fremont homes and also at North Bend and Hooper during the afternoon.

Apoplexy Causes Sudden Death Of Fremont Citizen

(Special to The Star.)
FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 20.—P. A. Nelson, head of the Fremont mattress company and for years prominent in business and commercial circles, died suddenly from a stroke of apoplexy at his home last night. He was at work as usual Friday.

Nelson was born in Norway in 1861. He came to Fremont in 1893. He was chairman of the official board of the First Methodist church. Funeral services will be held at the Methodist church at 2 p. m. Monday and the body will be taken to Kenosha, Wis.

CRETE NOTES.

(Special to The Star.)
CRETE, Neb., Jan. 20.—The Crete Music club met this week at the home of Mrs. P. C. Swift, she being assisted in the program of the afternoon by Mrs. C. C. Duffy. A piano feature was a vocal solo sung by Mrs. Duffy, which had been composed by Mrs. Swift. A number of out of town guests were present.

The American Legion auxiliary held open house Thursday for the reception of new members taken in at the close of the membership drive. The legion post is also quite active and has a membership campaign on with the goal set at 100 members.

Mrs. M. R. Dyer, Mrs. S. L. Main, Mrs. John Rothmuller and Miss Sophia Menke visited the Woman's club in Lincoln this week.

The annual meeting of the Crete Grain and Livestock association was held at Sokol hall, a banquet being served to the members and their wives at noon at the conclusion of the business session.

Miss Ida Rolland of Sutton and C. O. Backhol of Lincoln were quietly married at the home of her brother A. N. Rolland, Rev. W. A. Cave of the First Congregational church officiating. They departed for a honeymoon trip through the southern states and upon their return will make their home in Lincoln.

Ham Dillon, L. M. Leach, Sam Best and Frank Sedlacek returned Friday evening from the firemen's convention at North Platte.

DE WITT ITEMS.

(Special to The Star.)
DEWITT, Neb., Jan. 20.—Work on the new bridge over Turkey creek two miles south of town has been commenced, a crew of men with a pile driver being at work. This bridge saves about a half mile detour around the bend of the creek and is on the B. V. D. It runs parallel with the Burlington railroad bridge at that place.

Rev. Andrew Johnson, D. D. of Wilmore, Ky., assisted by Rev. Ray Baker of the DeWitt M. E. church, is holding a series of revival meetings here this week and next.

Albert Ulrich has sold his 240 acre farm a half mile east and a half mile south of DeWitt to Ernest Decker for $155 per acre. It is well improved in every way. Mr. Ulrich expects to move to DeWitt and will farm his 640 acre tract in Deuel county during the summer.

The wheat in this vicinity is badly in need of moisture.

Lincoln Architects to Make Plans for Midland Buildings

(Special to The Star.)
FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 20.—Contract was awarded today to Davis and Wilson of Lincoln for the plans for Midland college's building expansion, which will include a great gymnasium, central heating plant and dormitories.

Owner of Sycamore Springs Is Called

(Special to The Star.)
TABLE ROCK, Neb., Jan. 20.—E. V. Kaufman, founder and owner of the Sycamore mineral springs, located southeast of here near Sabetha, Kansas, died at the home of his son, William Kaufman at Seneca, and the body was taken to Seneca, Kas., for interment. Mr. Kaufman was well known in this section for establishing the springs as a health resort. In the last few years others have had charge of the springs as Mr. Kaufman had retired from the active management. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. George Ayers of Broken Bow, Neb., and two sons, Henry, in the employ of the Burlington with headquarters at Lincoln, and Will, of Seneca, Kas.

Table Rock Lodge Men Pay a Visit

(Special to The Star.)
TABLE ROCK, Neb., Jan. 20.—Seventeen members of Table Rock lodge No. 33, I. O. O. F., went to Pawnee City Friday evening, guests of the Pawnee City lodge. The lodge conferred the first degree on five members of the Table Rock lodge, and two members of their own lodge. The team of the Pawnee City lodge is considered one of the most up to date in southeast Nebraska. At the conclusion of the work, refreshments were served.

Award Damages In Automobile Case

(Special to The Star.)
FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 20.—Damages of $475 were awarded George Mercer Against Paul Rogers and J. A. Rogers, growing out of an automobile accident in 1921. Mercer claimed his wife was injured and his car damaged in the accident, which was caused, he said, by reckless driving of Paul Rogers.

GUIDE ROCK DEATH.

(Special to The Star.)
GUIDE ROCK, Neb., Jan. 20.—L. L. Watt, about seventy years of age, died Friday night of paralysis. For years he conducted a hotel here. The last few years he had been in poor health and had given up his business. He leaves a widow, two daughters, Mrs. J. M. Rawlings of Guide Rock and Mrs. Lou Brown of Ottawa, Kan., and several brothers here.

EIGHT ARE FINED FOLLOWING RAID

Gambling Charge Is Filed Against Men at Grand Island.

(Special to The Star.)
GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 20.—As the result of a raid on the pool hall of George Brown and a partner named Bachus, Jess Hood, colored, Dewey Jones, William Young, Francisco Garofa and Joe Revelez were fined $25 and costs each and the two proprietors $125 collectively. Rachus getting a $25 fine as accessory. Two others who denied they were gambling but claimed they were merely onlookers have their hearing later.

The raid also led to information leading the police to arrest Sam B. Cross, proprietor of the Cross Misfit Clothing store, on the charge of illegally operating a pawn shop. Exorbitant rates of interest of loans of only a few days were alleged.

Cross finally pleaded guilty and was fined in the sum of $50 and costs.

CHURCH PUBLICATION.

(Special to The Star.)
FAIRBURY, Neb., Jan. 20.—The new paper in Fairbury will be conducted by the churches of the county and will be called "The Inter-Church Messenger of Jefferson County." C. E. Fitch, secretary of the county Y. M. C. A., will have general charge of the publication.

Doane College Notes

Registration was busy at Doane college during the past week. The second semester opens Monday, January 22.

Many students who completed their examinations early in the week left in the latter part for a brief visit to their homes before returning for the second semester.

Ben Cherrington, field secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for this district, is expected at Doane on Thursday, February 1. He will address the student body and hold group meetings and special conferences with the men.

At a special election held Tuesday, Walter Spencer, Brewster, was elected president of the Doane Y. M. C. A. and Glen Gillespie, Cortland, was chosen vice-president. The officers chosen will hold office until the regular election early in April.

President Bennett returned a week ago Saturday from the meetings of the Colleges of the Interior and the American Association of Colleges in Chicago.

A Doane college reunion was held at Omaha Thursday evening, January 18, in the city Y. M. C. A. A number of Doane graduates and former students attended, many having come to Omaha at that time to be present at the Teachers' Convention in session last week.

The regular January meeting of the Doane college trustees was held in Lincoln Thursday afternoon.

Z. C. B. J. of Crete, the prominent society among Crete citizens of Czech extraction at its monthly meeting Sunday afternoon endorsed the program of the Greater Doane campaign and appointed the following committee to cooperate in promoting the campaign in Saline county: Joe Kunch, Sr., Frank J. Kobes, J. W. Sedlacek.

A union meeting of the four English-speaking churches of Western Nebraska will be held in the Methodist church there in the interest of Doane college. A program of sacred music by Prof. and Mrs. C. V. Kettering of the Doane conservatory of music and by the Doane girls' quartet will precede a brief address by Rev. Louis Heib, field representative of the college.

Tau Sigma Zeta, men's society at Doane college, held its first annual banquet Friday evening at the Methodist church parlors.

I. D. C. men's society, held its annual banquet Saturday evening at the parlors of the First Congregational church.

Out of town guests present at the college last week-end to attend the Alpha Omega banquet include Misses Nonda Neiman, Eddyville; Anna Buck, Syracuse; Charlotte Buck, and Mrs. Martin, Minneapolis; also Fred H. Barnore, Minden.

COTNER COLLEGE
President Cobey spent last Sunday at Falls City in the interest of the college.

Florence Bowers, class of '20, attended the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Henry Bowers of Fairbury, last Saturday.

Construction Firm Sues for Balance On State Contract

Edward Peterson, John P. Shirley and Herman Gunther, road construction contractors under the name of Peterson, Shirley and Gunther, have brought suit in district court here for an order to require State Auditor Marsh to allow a claim for $47,428.72, alleged balance due for work on the construction of a road between Harrison and Whitely in Sioux county. The claim was turned down by ex-Governor McKelvie, State Engineer George E. Johnson and Phil A. Bross, on grounds of an alleged "disagreement as to classification," and also by the state auditor. The construction work on the road, which was a federal aid project, cost $129,296, of which plaintiffs were paid $81,867.29.

Cadillac Manager Talks of Future Of Motor Industry

We have three main factors by which we judge the future of the motor car industry. One is what the industry itself has accomplished in the past. Another is general business conditions, and the third is a summary of reports and orders from our distributing organizations throughout the country.

There are today a total of 10,448, 732 motor vehicles in United States. This represents an increase of more than 1000 per cent in the last ten years. In Michigan, the home of our factory car registration have climbed to more than a half million.

In 1904 there were 96,000 motor cars registered in the whole United States. Today government statistics show that the entire population of the country could be moved by gasoline propelled vehicles at one and the same time.

It is very easy to talk optimism, but signing future orders for materials to be delivered and paid for shows a faith in the future that is backed by facts. And reports from financial authorities state that such orders have been signed for record breaking quantities.

Another factor is the summary of reports from distributors. Here again we can cut right through to the heart of the matter by stating that as a result of our latest market analysis in which reports from the field and orders for months ahead have been factors, we have again had to revise our production schedule upward, as we have done time and again during the past twelve months. New men are being added to our manufacturing forces, new equipment installed, and our production schedule calls for continued increases of output for many months to come.

Dealers Learn Hudson-Essex Quality Facts

A better selling knowledge of Hudson and Essex cars, and a fuller acquaintance with the general policies of the Hudson organization—these are the objects of a new educational room just installed at the factory.

To christen it, a party of 30 dealers came on from the Gomerly-Schwartz territory of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware. For two days they absorbed information about Hudson-Essex. They went away saying that never before had they experienced a more useful selling lesson.

The room contains Hudson and Essex chassis, a stripped Essex coach, and a varied and instructive assortment of Hudson-Essex parts.

Since the opening, other parties have visited the educational room from Cincinnati and Knoxville. Gomerly-Schwartz consider the visit so profitable that they are repeating it with a second party of thirty dealers. Other distributors are arranging similar trips for their dealer organizations. Dates should be applied for so that visiting delegations will not conflict.

MAXWELL

Look at This Beautiful Sedan

It's the Jewett Six for Year 'Round Comfort

Think of your family snugly riding along in weather you'd rather not talk about. All steel panel, weather-tight, Jewett body construction protects you. Roomy seats and easy cushions make you comfortable. Soft toned upholstery delights the eye.

The silent, well-oiled Jewett motor tells its presence only by the smooth movement of the car. You slow down at a crossing—almost stop. But you never think of the gear lever. Just the slight pressure of your foot and the Jewett Sedan is again going 25 miles an hour in seven seconds.

A hill looms ahead. You need run no risk by dashing up it, a little more pressure from your foot and the still quiet motor carries you up without slacking speed. How comes the Jewett by such ability?

Such unusual ability can have but one source—unusual power compared to weight. Jewett has 20% more power than any car its size. Its silence comes from a thoroughly lubricated motor. Jewett high pressure oiling system sends three gallons of oil per minute through all main and connecting rod bearings.

Silent efficiency—freedom from motor trouble—long motor life—are thus insured in the Jewett as in no other small car. Long life to the whole car is insured by rugged construction. It is the heaviest car of its size—not a flimsy light six.

Bring your family in to look over this Jewett Sedan. Ride in it. Drive it yourself. Feel the thrill of its big-car performance. Note the riding comfort of its rugged construction. It means much to own the only small six built by a maker of a leading big six.

Thrifty People Demand

The Greatest Service for Every Dollar Invested

They do not purchase that which is cheap but that which is GOOD --- they purchase where they feel assured of most service per dollar invested.

It is upon this ideal that Magee's was founded and has grown through the years. Every day we are trying harder to give merchandise which will give more service.

May we not see every reader of this advertisement in our store buying the most dependable in Wearing Apparel and Shoes for Men, Women and Children.

LUCK TO THE HOUSE AND GOLD TO THE POCKET

Runs the little Christmas rhyme. Just a bayberry candle that is so good a fairy to the home! The woman, however, who knows her household to be organized upon a scientific basis, as though it were a business proposition, upon a budget planned income, knows she has a more potent guard for her, and the family, pocket than the brightest candle may offer.

She has allotted on Monday, or on the first of the month, a sum sufficient to cover the expense of clothes, taxes, insurance, bread and meat, luxuries, every need of her home, savings for that period. When the end of that time comes she is confident that she will have lived within the income of her husband, and mayhaps may have a few pennies for the all important savings column. All through the week she has bought with care and discretion, with a thought for the amount allowed for the day and for the health of the family—and care in purchasing means better meals, more suitable and durable clothing, with compensation in a peace of spirit and absence of money troubles in the home.

REAL Thrift in Coal Buying

Means most heat units, with least ash, smoke and dirt. Experience has proved over and over again that it pays to buy only clean, hot, lasting coal, even if the first cost is twice as much as the cheapest grades cost.

What you save in buying poor quality coal you lose in loss of heat units, time in firing it, cost of roof fires, smoke and soot soiling your home, loss of temper, and in hauling out ashes. When you buy good coal you get the most heat units, the least bother and really save money.

We—"The Good Coals People" always buy the best coals we can find—if we knew of any better, we would buy them. That is why our customers gave us this nick-name.

We always sell our coals on a fair profit margin for high quality coals and service.

Plan Ahead for.....

Spending and Saving

The money you work hard to earn is worth careful attention when the time comes for its disposal.

If you plan ahead and decide in advance where each dollar is to go, you will be less likely to spend foolishly, and saving for the future will be made easier.

Start a budget now and govern your personal expenditures accordingly. Make allowances for necessities, recreation and advancement, and do not overlook the need of saving some part of what you earn.

Budgeting Home Expenditures

A great many families have a tolerably steady monthly income, either from fees for professional services, profits from business, rents from property owned, interest on investments, or wages and salaries. Where it is possible to make a fairly accurate estimate of the monthly income, it is an excellent thing to make a budget for home expenditures.

Naturally, if the family is to be thrifty and prosper, the outgo or expenses must be less than the income; but the term "expenditures" is broader and covers savings as well as expenses. In a properly prepared budget the expenditures will consume all the income every month; but the expenses will always be less than the income.

A family budget designed for a family of four—father, mother and two children—where the monthly income is $200 per month or about $46 per week, gives the various items about as follows:

House	$10.80
Running Expenses	4.15
Food	12.75
Savings	3.60
Insurance (Life)	1.70
Clothes	8.00
Betterment	3.00
Recreation	2.00
Total	$46.00

Where advantage is taken of our Prudential Monthly Payment plan of paying for a home, the items "house" and "savings" are readjusted, so that the amount paid on principal is included as "savings."

The remainder of the "savings" item not used in paying on the home, can be utilized in taking care of one of our Modern Investment contracts.

And the Life Insurance item is best handled through our Eitellic contract, which pays 5 per cent on daily balances and cares for annual premiums in monthly payments.

Ask for booklets and circulars describing the plans mentioned. They will aid you in establishing and maintaining your family or home budget.

When the Modern American Flapper Has Had the Dictionary Rewritten to Include Her New Language, the Present Day Linguist Will Be as One Who Is Deaf and Dumb

BY LULU MAE COE.

"I was in a department store they met. And while they waited, she confided to her ear ringed friend: "He says: 'Meet me at the sin buster's steps at seven bells.' "N I said: 'You just ankle along, old bird. I don't call for no cooky pusher.' " "Bees Ankles," says he, "see if I care for a carrot domed skirt. It's the bunk." "Dunk, izit?" says I to him. "I've got a blue serge and I don't hafta go with no bozo like you." "I've got a cuddle cootie parked on my front steps that'll knock you for a goal. For cryin' out loud." "Ice and snow for you, old boy?" "He shakes a sock like a nut." "Sairy," ejaculated the nice looking old man to his wife, "why don't they make them furriers talk English?" "I don't know, pa. They look kinda like Americans, too." "And the aristocratic lady, who had the effect of a perpetual lorgnette at her eyes: "But my dear Alice, do you suppose THEY understand what they mean?" Cuddle cootie, ankle along, bunk—it's preposterous." "It would seem that the only English in existence when those youngsters are our age will be preserved under a glass cage and each one will gaze upon a neat specimen marked 'Extinct since 1924.' " "You might add that jargon has taken its place." "I might add that nothing has taken its place." "Lo, the poor modernist!" "Hope Gone Over Hill." She was about to go down for the last time. All hope had gone over the hill. She was about to make her last remarks. She had been reviled, maligned, disparaged, ill treated, misused, and reproached when she said anything. She had been reviled, maligned, and disparaged when she did anything. When skirts simply weren't—she was frowned upon. When she brought them down within viewing distance—she was denounced. When she bobbed her locks—she was laughed at. When she added a few dime store tresses to her crowning glory—she was mocked. When she went out in the evening—she was scolded. When she stayed home, the family remained on the other side of the double doors—and she was chided for her remarks. If she did—she was. If she didn't—she was.

back row, with a meaningful little pat on the shoulder? There is a flapperish cerebellum if layers deep under an east African head dress. The cerebellum worked. She added a panel to the skirt, she demurely coiled her hair over her ears, she put in a grandmotherly sort of comb in the coils—the outward flapper was gone. But the inner flame—fed by three years of independence, indifference, and indolence? It burned—fashion and family could not quench that. She went into the layers of gray matter. She would not give up the independence, to become a stock pattern of every girl from the Battery to Nob Hill, from Point Isabel to International Falls. She would not be Girl, as known from Eve through Joan up to Jane of 1918. Never. And because she had been the brunt of the family disapproval for so long, she was going to have a complex unfathomable this time. And she came out with an ideal. One fine morning, when Judy O'Grady came to do the Colonel's lady's washing, she was in high dudgeon. "Sure, and how do I know what my Judy manes, when she says to me, "Thumb dumb surge," Airin' his stilt around my humble! Nix!" And upstairs, the Colonel's lady heard Betty from boarding school greet an early morning caller. "Highball, dumb bell. How's the cel's neck?" Yes, they were sisters under the skin. Betty of boarding school and Judy of the jewelry counter. The flapper fraternity has been formed. The flapper has her revenge. She has gone where none can follow.

Miss Seventeen talks of alibi—meaning flowers sent by the blue serge—steady friend—for some dereliction of attendance. American Up to Date. They may fall in a faint when she says: "You just ankle along, old bird. I don't call for no cooky pusher." They may think she is going out with the cook, but they will never be sure. There are no lexicons, dictionaries, or notes given by the new frat. Once upon a time there was a man who was said to have sixty thousand or unbelievable thousands of words in his vocabulary, and his name was William Shakespeare. He was supposed to have been able, and his words bear at least slight witness to throw them around most recklessly. Every year he could discard a thousand, and start in with a whole new supply, not excluding a's and and's. Fame his its bruises no less than obscurity, and he has had his share of blame in this world. Many have grieved to find no words alike in any of his books, and have moaned at his infinite variety. But he came with notes, always, and a few deletions to help the weary student. Not so the flapper code. It may not be so large, but give it sixty-four years as William S. had. Day by day and in most unexpected ways it is growing larger. At least a half dozen came in today, and now that the cooky pushers—the newest for cake eater—which superciliousness—admitted as honorary members, the style that had any appearance of being cramped will become much freer. And there are no deletions—the joy of having a language all your own. Nor are there changes as is as though Mrs. Skyjack from Mars came down with her husband and formed her own club, the ladies all speaking the latest Moravian. The woman who a few days ago carefully went through the dictionary and found all the words she knew, about ten thousand, will probably have her trouble for nothing. When the flappers become Mr. Flappers and at least one is president of the United States, Mr. Webster will be exiled, and a new "Dic" compiled. And the ten thousand lady will be as deaf and dumb. There will be nothing that the older generation knows in it. She will look through, and see "to put on the freeze (slang expression formerly) (Amer. combination) (See cold). To queer a thing; to be cold. (Def. obsolete) See Flapper revision pp. 229. And that will be but one of many, and she will learn to talk as they did in the good old days, on her fingers. Lo, the poor modernist! She is having her revenge, but it is tinged with a little bitterness. She has not quite so large a vocabulary, as she might have. She can think in the new language quite fast enough to meet all situations. And. (Continued On Page Six.)

University Notes

The work of the second semester at the University of Nebraska begins Monday, January 22. The first-semester final examinations closed Friday when the student had his last chance to put in evidence to prove that he deserves the honor rank of "Excellent," or is a "Good" student, or "medium" or just "passable;" or that, because of incompetency or inattention to business or lack of time to do his academic work, he is a "failure."

The names of all persons who are ranked by their instructors as "failed" or "conditioned" or "incomplete" will be sent Monday to the office of the committee on scholarship, which a week ago announced that because of the unusually large number of delinquent students this year, it would in only-exception cases exercise its discretionary power as to re-instating delinquents. To the homes of 260 students who had been put on probation, the University sent letters just before Christmas. The University of Michigan sent 1000.

New students and also those who failed to complete their registration the previous week were registered January 17 to 20. The deans of the various colleges report that the second-semester registration is at the same rate as that for the first semester.

An invitation to Dr. George E. Condra of the soil survey and conservation department, from the Nebraska house of representatives to show maps, colored slides, and motion pictures of the state was accepted. He will show a part of Nebraska in pictures every Wednesday. The North Platte valley was the first section to be shown. Particular stress was laid on the irrigation of the best sugar industry of that section. The Pine Ridge country and the sand hills will be taken up in order. These illustrated lectures are given in the house chamber at 7:30. For several sessions the house has requested Doctor Condra to render this service.

Chairmen and workers in the campaign for the Nebraska stadium have given a prominent place in the January number of the University Journal. It gives a list of the county chairmen, their quotas and the amount subscribed; and contains photographs of Harold Holtz, '17, secretary of the Alumni association and chairman of the campaign; Robert H. Manley, '97, Omaha, who directed the publicity with Frank A. Bullitt, '08, Omaha, and Robert F. Craig, '24, Lincoln, August Eiche, president of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, and Earl Campbell, '10, Lincoln, who were in charge of the drive in Lincoln; Chauncey Nelson, '23, Lincoln, in charge of the student campaign, and of the following county chairmen: Clyde B. Dempster, '17, Gage; R. L. Cochran, '16, Lincoln; A. B. Mickey, '17, Polk; Fred W. Clark, ex-'18, Red Willow; William H. Quade, ex-'08, Logan; Edward Baumann, ex-'02, Cuming; Lowell Walker, '14, Platte; W. W. Wilson, '98, Otoe, and A. C. Krebs, '16, Clay. Forty-one of the eighty-six counties have passed their quotas, and twelve made no report.

The Nebraska state museum is preparing a collection recently sent by Andrew Millek, '19, consulting geologist at Laredo, Texas. The collection consists mostly of plant fossils, some of which are nearly two feet in length and perfect in preservation. The work of preparation is in the hand of Mrs. Anna G. Redford.

Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the College of Business Administration has been appointed member of the editorial board of the American Economic Review, the official organ of the American Economic association. This office continues for three years. The board's main function is to determine the policies of the publication and choose its editors.

Prof. M. H. Sween of the department of entomology, is author of a circular, "Insect Pests of Stored Grain and Their Control," published in December, and is joint editor with E. E. Wheeler, instructor in entomology, of Bulletin No. 133, "Experiments with Poisoned Baits for Grass hoppers," published in January. Both publications were issued by the agricultural experiment station of the university. The circular states that pests annually cause an estimated loss of over $100,000,000 worth of grain and grain products in the United States and that in Nebraska there are about twenty species of insects that injure stored grain. The bulletin points out that extensive and serious injury by grass hoppers has been largely confined to the prairie districts of the North Platte valley—in Sioux, Scottsbluffs, and Morrill counties—during the past three years.

The University concert band is planning a tour of southeastern Nebraska. A tour of this kind has not been made for three years. The organization is rated by federal military inspectors as one of the best university bands in the United States. The tour will be conducted under the authority of the Lyceum board and the University extension division.

The following are among the professional geologists who visited the department of geology and geography the past month: S. K. Clark of the Arkansas Natural Gas company, Tulsa, Okla.; M. M. Garrett, consulting geologist at Wichita Falls, Texas, and chief geologist for the Haskell Oil company; C. A. Hapgood, geologist for the Lewis oil company; Wesley Gish, geologist for the White Eagle Oil company; Earl Colton, geologist for the Roxandra Petroleum company; Glen Ruby, consulting geologist at Denver; Raymond Gillespie, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Harold Hager, consulting geologist, Billings, Mont.; Henry Weber, mine operator at Tonahop, Nev.; Archie Kautz, Morton Matson, E. E. Lindblad, and E. P. Hines, geologists of the Empire Gas and Fuel company, Bartlesville, Okla.; and Elfred Beck of Billings, Mont.

Miss Hermine Stellar, assistant in drawing and painting, was called to Chicago last Sunday by the seriousness of her father.

A joint exhibit of the Nebraska Art association and the School of Fine Arts, to be held sometime in February in the art gallery, is being prepared. A collection of forty paintings by some of the foremost artists of the last period will be loaned by the Metropolitan Museum of Art of New York City. Most of the work in the collection is by famous American painters.

Miss Mable Harris, librarian at the Teachers college, read a paper on "Library Material for Debating in High Schools," before the library section of the Nebraska State Teachers' association at Omaha Friday.

The first number of The Daily Nebraska under the management of the new editorial staff appointed on competition January 15, by the University Publication board, will be issued Tuesday, January 23. General policies and the fixing of the duties and responsibilities of each member were discussed at a staff meeting Saturday afternoon. Application blanks—calling for fuller information than heretofore—to be filled out by students who wish to become members of the staff of reporters may be had at the office.

An important collection of several hundred invertebrate fossils, collected by Dr. Eula D. McEwan while she was a student and helper in the University of Indiana, has just been received by the Nebraska state museum. Mrs. McEwan received her master's and doctor's degrees from Columbia University, was a paleontologist, for three years, in the United States national museum; took Doctor Tilton's place as professor of geology in Simpson college, Iowa; and was registered for special work in mineralogy and crystallography here last year in the department of geology and geography.

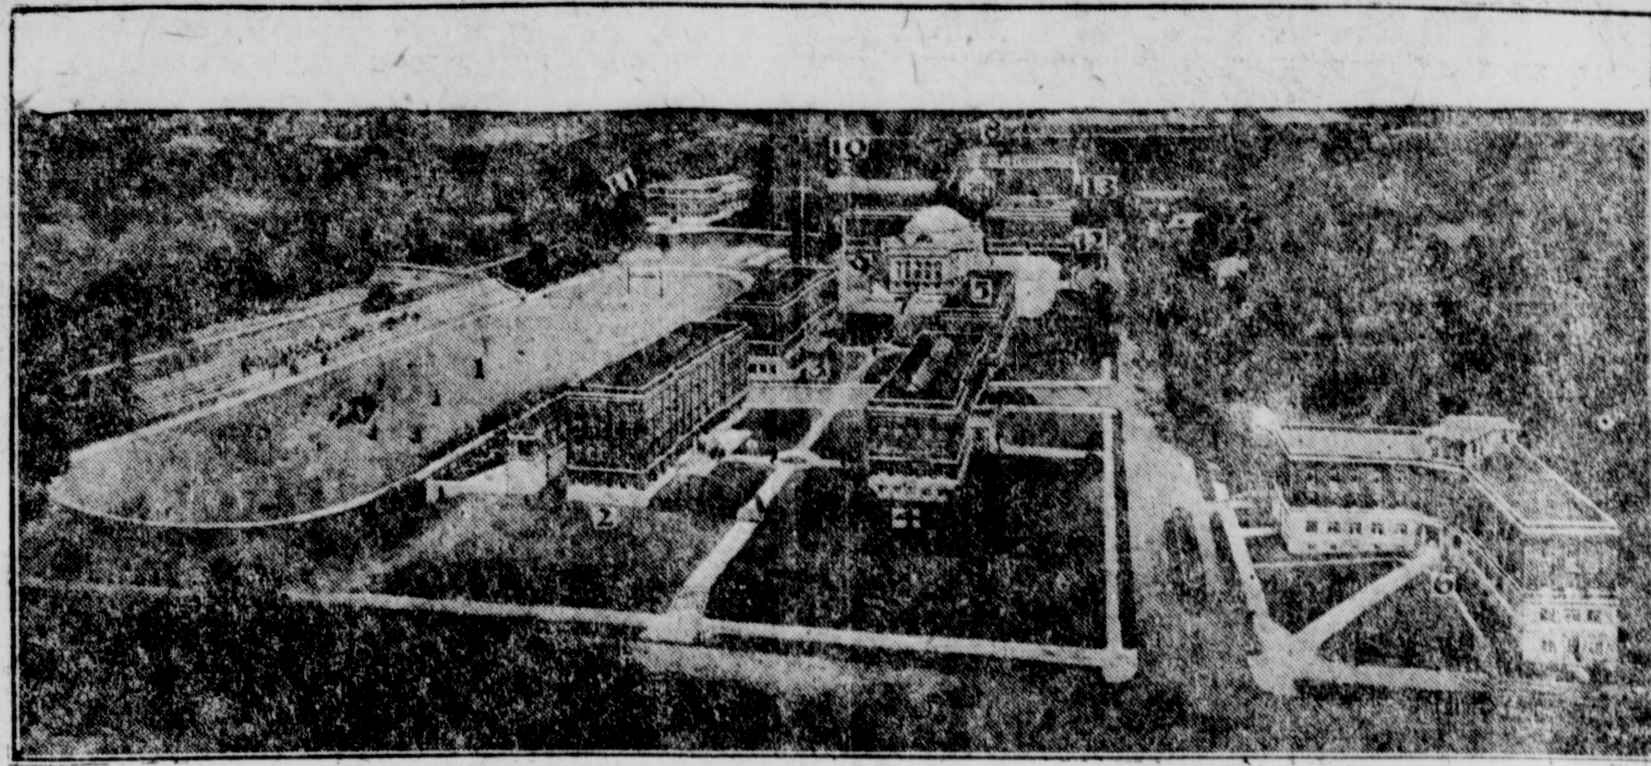

Isidoro Santel, a graduate of the University of the Philippines who has been at the library school of the University of New York at Albany, at the cost of the Philippines government, is studying library methods at the University of Nebraska. He stopped at Omaha to inspect the College of Medicine library. He was urged to come to Nebraska by J. I. Weyer, New York state librarian, brother of Librarian Malcolm G. Weyer of Nebraska.

Earl P. Hines, '15, assistant chief geologist for the Empire Oil and Gas company, addressed classes in geology Tuesday, January 9, on "The Oil Field Development of the Plains."

Harold J. Cook of Agate addressed the class in structural geology Thursday, January 11, on the subject of "Vertebrate Fossils of Western Nebraska as Horizon Markings."

Creighton University to Spend Million Dollars on Building Program During the Current Year

OMAHA, Jan. 20.—Here's a picture of the new Creighton university of Omaha, as it will look when the new building program, which will begin as soon as the frost is out of the ground, is completed. One million dollars worth of new buildings will be constructed during the year.

One of the first pieces of construction to be undertaken will be the big athletic stadium which will be built at a cost of $150,000. The first unit of seats will contain 7,500. Other units will be constructed when the demand warrants.

Building No. 2 in the picture is the new Chemistry building, No. 3 is the College of Arts, No. 4 is the Dental college and No. 5 Law college. No.

6 is the new dormitory while No. 7 is the Library building, No. 8 is St. John's church, 9 and 12 are miscellaneous buildings, 10 is the Observatory, 11 the Gymnasium and 13 the present Main building.

In March Creighton will conduct a campaign for $2,000,000 of which $1,000,000 will be used for building purposes and the other $1,000,000 as an endowment. With the interest on the $1,000,000 endowment Creighton expects to educate 1,000 additional young men every year—men who are now refused entrance to the school because of inadequate facilities.

Lincoln graduates of Creighton are taking part in the financial campaign and have made a temporary organization with Dr. Carl C. Johnson as chairman and Dale P. Stough as secretary.

of children's literature at the Cumberland Valley state normal, Shippensburg Pa. She writes Wesleyan friends that she has been put on the extension department staff and has a class in the teaching of reading at Carlisle, Pa., every week.

In this class are teachers who have taught from one to thirty-two years. Miss Dyer plans to spend her spring vacation in Philadelphia. During the summer she will be engaged in research work in New York City.

Word reaches the Nebraska Wesleyan campus that Thomas Q. Harrison, who was prominent in debate and oratory at Wesleyan for two years, has given up his plans for becoming a rector in the Episcopal church and will attend the Harvard law school during the second semester.

Mrs. Clara Riesland Brandt of Nebraska Wesleyan faculty is offering a course for girls in swimming. The class meets Wednesday evening at the Lincoln high school. When the Wesleyan stadium is built ample provision will be made for swimming instruction for men and women.

Dr. A. C. Hunter of the Nebraska Wesleyan faculty received an invitation to attend Journalism week with the school of Journalism of the University of Washington at Seattle, January 18-20.

PIGGLY WIGGLY

Piggly Wiggly Again Heads the Thrift Columns

Thrift means the application of common sense to spending. That alone will lead you to Piggly Wiggly. Advertising a few prices in the Friday newspaper means nothing. You cannot possibly get a proper comparison as the average grocer merely needs to cut a few staple prices. Often butter, eggs or sugar is sold at cost, the grocer hoping to get it back on long profit items such as olives, preserves, canned goods, etc. Volume means success and low prices. We buy in huge quantities at great savings. We do business on a margin of less than 13 per cent. Now utilize the common sense, who but the consumer can get the benefit of our buying power and low expenses. You buy at Piggly Wiggly nearer to wholesale prices than you realize. We cannot offer you expensive personal attention, very costly delivery service, useless credit of a few dollars, free premiums. If you want to pay only for groceries, there is no better place on earth, and we hope in heaven, than Piggly Wiggly.

Are You a Party to this Thrift Record in Lincoln?

For the past five weeks Piggly Wiggly averaged over $1,000 in business each Saturday at Store No. 1. Store No. 3 gained 10 per cent this week over preceding week and Store No. 2 showed a nice gain. Both stores are gaining steadily. We continually quote you figures because if you, the consumer, are not interested in working out the best possible medium of obtaining your foodstuffs, you deserve to be affected with profits. Also, some of our more brilliant citizens have continually forecasted dire things for Piggly Wiggly. We like to disappoint these "duds" so here we are beyond the "Marne" unharmed by the "Gas." Benjamin Franklin's code for "Thrift," was "to save by spending." Abe Lincoln didn't believe in being a slave to anything, credits, conversation, delivery, we suppose included. Wally Reid died trying to emancipate himself from one kind of dope, "Are you going to be a slave to habit, laziness, credit and the telephone. BRING YOUR BILLS TO PIGGLY WIGGLY AND COMPARE."

Camp William Lewis, United Spanish-American War Veterans, to Publicly Install Officers

SPANISH WAR VETERANS TO BE INSTALLED IN OFFICE.

Below—O. E. Sincenbaugh, bugler; O. W. Meier, historian and patriotic instructor; J. P. Bratt, trustee; R. Bjorkman, color bearer; S. A. Dowling, officer of the guard.

The officers-elect of William Lewis camp, United Spanish War Veterans, will be formally installed by State Senator Charles Smrha, past department commander of the organization, and P. James Cosgrave, master of ceremonies, in Fraternity hall at Lincoln, Jan. 27, at 8 p. m., and members of the Nebraska legislature and other state officers will be special guests of the camp on the occasion of the installation.

William Lewis camp No. 2, United Spanish War Veterans, of the department of Nebraska, was organized by Adjutant General Ernest H. Phelps in May, 1908, ten years after the Spanish war. The camp is named for the first Nebraskan who gave his life in the cause of freedom, patriotism and humanity upon the field of battle in that war. William Lewis was a private soldier in Company E of the First regiment of Nebraska volunteer infantry and he was killed in action near Manila in the Philippines shortly before the American forces entered that city. George L. Sheldon, formerly governor of Nebraska, is a charter member of the camp and so is William H.

Hayward, now of New York, and Col. C. J. Mills, deceased. The commanders of the camp in order of seniority are Otto W. Meier, Frank I. Ringer, Frank D. Eager, John A. Mize, James D. Baker, August B. Woodhuff, Roscoe C. Ozman, Richard Bjorkman, Charles H. Dean, Fritz Westermann, Neil T. Somber, P. James Cosgrave, George Ladden, Stephen A. Dowling and Jacob H. North.

The installation ceremonies will be open to the public and will be conducted by the camp and the local ladies' auxiliary. The officers of the latter will be installed by Mrs. Florence E. White, state president of the auxiliary organization. Regular meetings of the camp and of the auxiliary are held in Fraternity hall on the fourth Saturday of every month, and a state encampment for Spanish war veterans and their families is held each year in June, the last of which was held at Hastings in 1921 and concluded with a parade upon the streets of the city on Flag day.

of which are under the chaperonage of the department at present—on the car, don't dash out, flag the car, and implore the motorman to give you back your treasure. His car! Rules say "hurry, hurry" on that subject. The company has had a couple of tragic experiences because of that and all things must be brought to the office. One time in particular a purse disappeared that would not had it been brought to the building. A lady dropped a purse on the car, at another corner, a man and a woman got on; they were not together. He found the purse, examined it, counting the bills, which were of unbelievable denominations, musing on a pillow top in it, gazing upon the cosmetics concealed therein. The woman sat across the aisle. When he got off, he gave it to the motorman, who notified the office, which sent a road officer to get it at the next trip. On the way back, the woman who had been across from the man stopped the car, described minutely the contents, and received the bag. That evening the owner advertised for it, the finder telephoned her that he had given it to the car operator—but the woman in the case was never found.

The Case of a Typewriter. Rather complicated processes are used occasionally to restore things to the owners. In December a portable typewriter was turned in having a name penciled on a piece of paper inside. The man was called, but disclaimed ownership. The New York office was written, which replied the typewriter bearing that number had been sold to an Omaha concern. The Omaha firm, in reply to another letter, told of having sold the machine to a Mr. Rush. The Mr. Rushes in Lincoln did not own typewriters apparently. Through some channel it was borne to one who did not figure in the directory that a lost typewriter had been found. Eventually he came, and identified it finally by telling the name of the man inside. He told of the one man he knew on a certain street.

About two hundred articles come into the department each month, and about half of them are returned. Odd gloves, enough to stock a one hundred race and children's purses are the most numerous articles left. When J. Fluvius does his worst, then it is not

The Lost and Found Department Gets Everything--Even Hootch But the Owner Called for That

BY LULU MAE COE.

Has anybody seen my kitty? Has anybody seen my cat? If you've looked in the well and under the coal pile, and poor pussy is still among the missing, maybe she's down in the lost and found department of the Lincoln Traction company.

Not that the L. T. C. considers quadrupeds among its preferred passengers—not at all—but now and again a frantic-eyed fellow, nearly swamped and tied as though she were a box of candy, wanders in under the arm of a conductor—forgotten by the owner who had so neatly camouflaged her.

Pussies, though, are rare finds. Were can openers, cans, door bells, oil cans, ties, watermelons, doughnuts and baby clothes as rare, the life of the lost and found man would be one of magnificent ease. On a busy day his office resembles a rummage sale and his collection rivals the second hand man's best.

To mention flags, examination papers, crackers, wash boilers, gas pipe, automobile mufflers, ice cream, golf balls and shawls are but a part of the motley gathering of the eagle-eyed street car operatives during the days and months. Pussies is the name of the real collection in the Terminal building. To lose the precious bits of leather and velvet is the avocation of the hurried and the careless. There is a drawer of them, drab, gray, worn, shining, flat and fat, mute tales of indifference, thrown into a drawer, waiting the owners that never come.

Some Contrasts. Gaudy purses of childhood, each with its tarnished chain, and empty, or with a brilliant handkerchief rest in the collection. Smart tooled leather—emblem of wealth and fashion—rubs handles with out of date huge black ones, gray at the corners and with the imitation leather worn back little rolls. Large and small, beautiful and unbecoming looks, here as in nature, is only skin deep. The frowzy old seal one may contain a half a hundred dollars, while the swanky brown one contains only a postage stamp and one forlorn, shrinking penny lost in the depths of silk lining.

Curious things come into the lost and found man, odd things in purses, particularly. Handkerchiefs, coins, as keep sacks, samples, addresses by the multitude, receipts, cryptic sentences on dirty paper that may mean much of little, keys, bottles—and hair pins, rouge, lip sticks and powder and all my lady's beautifiers. Not so long ago a package of fervid love letters reposed in one purse. The young lady was notified, and long it was before she would appear for them, and then only because lost articles are returned only to the person concerned.

When the lost article is turned in it is duly tagged with the name of the line on which it was found, the date, the article's name, and the date of finding is also put in a book, which the owner signs when he calls for his lost-but-found possession. In some cases, the owner fails to call for his article, even though some marks of identification have enabled the company to notify him.

A young university co-ed lost a purse, containing a $1.37 in money and trinkets. The company notified her once, and notified her twice, the name being in the purse. The company waited. One day an employee was going her way, and stopped with the purse. No one was home. The company man called again. The company waited. The purse and its contents yet remain. When the next distribution day comes around, some one will have $1.37.

Kept Three Months. An article that has been found is kept three months, waiting for the owner. When he fails to appear by the end of that period, the article is returned to the finder, if he is yet in the company's service. If not it is turned over to the secretary of the employees' relief association to be sold for the relief fund.

When you leave your meat, dishes, overcoat, shoes, dinner pail, chicken, book, glasses, thermos, sock, cushion, collars and curling iron—all

GET RID OF YOUR FAT

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction, often at a very rapid rate, and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place.

I am a licensed practicing physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such medicinal ingredients and in such proportion as in my opinion should produce a loss of weight improvement in health, and with it an alleviation of all the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are a direct result of overweightness, such as shortness of breath on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., no to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. All cases are under my supervision.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of your superfluous fat!

If you are over stout do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan whereby I am to be PAID ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE if you so desire.

Lincoln, Fifty Years Ago, Offered Sparse Attractions to Young Lawyer

BY LYNNELLE GREER.

Fifty years! A half century. It seems a life time in itself, and yet it was over fifty years ago that A. C. Ricketts, one of the prominent attorneys in Lincoln, came to this city to make his start in life. The city now was a village then, and a rather poor one at that, that is to say, it didn't compare with the small towns in Nebraska today, according to Mr. Ricketts.

Fresh from Ann Arbor law school, Mr. Ricketts decided to come west. His home was in Findlay, O., but he thought the place for a rising young lawyer was in the west. He had made up his mind to go to Des Moines, but waiting to see what was on the other side of the river, he bought his ticket to Omaha. Lincoln had not even entered his mind.

Upon arriving in Omaha, he found that two friends of his were in Lincoln, and one week end he decided to come down and see them. He came, but he stayed two weeks instead of two days.

The day he landed in Lincoln is well imprinted upon Mr. Ricketts' memory. It was Saturday, July 17, 1872.

"I had never thought of staying in Omaha," said Mr. Ricketts, "and coming to Lincoln was far from my thoughts, but I was away from home and seeing friends, and having them urge me to stay and seem to really want me, were the things that decided me in favor of Lincoln. I had left my trunk at Des Moines, and I went back after it. That was the only time I ever set foot in that town. I have been through it of course, but never have stopped."

Inopportune Time.

Mr. Ricketts said that he came to Lincoln at the worst possible time, just before the financial panic of '73. "Everyone was jealous of their old pocketbooks," said Mr. Ricketts, "and didn't have any money to spend on the struggling young lawyers. The law profession, is I believe, one of the hardest professions in which to get started. It takes all the way from four to six or seven years to convince people that you really know what you are talking about. The medical profession is something on the same order, but I think it is a trifle easier."

"Our law schools then had two year courses, at least Ann Arbor did. The first year you took no examinations, had nothing but lectures. The second year you took examinations on what you were supposed to have learned the first year. There were about four hundred students in that school, and there were any way one hundred and fifty in my class. Their ages ranged all the way from twenty to thirty years. It seems to me that the young men of today are younger than they were then, but there is no doubt due to the educational advantages they have had during their growing up. I did not begin any academic work until I was past twenty-one, and did not finish my law course until I had past twenty-seven. They have better schools today than they had then. They give the young man more of a insight into law. A Nebraska university they have case work, and almost carry on a regular legal practice among themselves. We had none of that."

Mr. Ricketts has watched Lincoln grow from a village of two or three thousand to its present population, and says that it surpassed any prediction as to population he would have made at that time.

"My guess was that it would be about 25,000 in population," Mr. Ricketts said. But here it is over twice that, and I make another prediction now, and that is that Lincoln will grow to fifty or two hundred thousand inhabitants. It's a fine place. There isn't another city the same size anywhere that can beat it, and there never was."

Mr. Ricketts is one of the three attorneys who came to Lincoln in the early days, and who still keep Lincoln for their home. The other two are L. C. Burr and Samuel J. Tuttle. Judge Tuttle was here first, then Mr. Ricketts and then came L. C. Burr.

"There aren't many of us left any more," said Mr. Ricketts. "It is seldom I see anyone whom I knew years ago. Things have changed so in every way. Look at the telephone, the automobile, the airplane, and now the radio. Wonderful things, all of them. And within the next fifty years there will be still more wonderful inventions. I only wish I could see what they will be."

Mr. Ricketts will be seventy-eight this next birthday, which is in March. He is still very active in his law work. He does the inside work, and his son, L. A. Ricketts and Allen Field, a partner do the court work. "It is a vastly interesting profession," stated Mr. Ricketts. "I have been pitted against every attorney Lincoln ever had, I guess, and I enjoyed it. Every time you win a case you feel just like you would if you had won some other kind of a fight. It is a battle of wits and brains instead of anything else, that is all. I don't know how the young men feel today, but when I first began, I would far rather meet a man who had been in the profession for some time than a beginner, for the older man would feel so confident that he was likely to overlook some little thing that might help me a great deal, but the young man forgot nothing. He was right on his tips every minute with books galore and all kinds of proof."

And Mr. Ricketts looked out upon all buildings, business houses and office buildings that had risen up where cornfields were when he came to Lincoln.

"It doesn't seem possible some times, but I guess it is true." After that panic I told you about, things were in a bad way in Lincoln. People gave away their hogs and cattle because they had no food for them. Grasshoppers came along and ate all of the corn. There was just nothing left."

In the nineties there was another financial crisis, and at that time lots just south of the capitol could have been bought for twenty-five dollars each, as many as one could have bought. Of course their value had been more than that at one time, but the panic had crumpled them up. And when I first came to Lincoln, the best land around sold for not more than ten dollars an acre, and that was considered a big price."

So you see, there have been some changes in many things in many ways during the half century that Mr. Ricketts has been a resident of Lincoln.

Lincoln Man, Student of Astrology, Declares Science of Stars and Planets Benefit to Mankind

BY JESSIE WATSON.

Living in a humble little dwelling at 2131 Orchard street is a man virile in appearance, though his graying hair and mustache would indicate that he is past the prime of life, who claims to have the power to see deep into human lives and look into their future. But he does not claim to be any other than that possessed by ordinary men and women. It is not through intuition or any supernatural quality that he lifts the veil that shields the future from the eyes of the present but through the science of astrology.

J. J. Lau, an inspector for the Burlington railroad, is the man who holds this theory. He belongs to the school of astrologers, or mystics, which was well established among the ancients but through later years has been almost abandoned. There have always been a few astrologers, but the science developed in ancient times has been lost, and more modern followers of the school have had to work out the laws of astrology for themselves.

From boyhood, Mr. Lau was interested in every new field of thought that was opened to him. One day he saw a book with a swastika sign on the cover. He bought the book and read it. It was "New Thought," and through "New Thought" he became interested in astrology.

He signed up for instruction with the Rosicrucian school at Oceanside, California, and has been a student of astrology ever since.

Mystic Faith and Astrology.

As Mr. Lau sat in the living room of his little home on Orchard street and talked about astrology there was a look in his steady, gray eyes that might be interpreted as the far away expression of one who sees deep below the surface of material things or as the calmness of one who has found spiritual contentment. He explained that no mysticism and astrology go hand in hand. The mystic faith convinces the heart and astrology convinces the mind.

According to the theory of the mystic religion, the soul comes to earth in a human body for the purpose of gaining worldly experience. During this stay in the world the soul learns certain lessons necessary for its development. When the body dies the soul passes into another state where it is purged of all the evil influences of the world. Its stay here is about a third as long as its stay on earth. From there it goes into heaven where it remains until it feels the need of more worldly experience.

The soul is again returns to earth in the body of a human being and goes through the same cycle. It keeps re-process one element does change to another. Astrology is based upon this and upon theory of vibration. According to Mr. Lau's explanation, every electron not only in the world but in the planets, the sun, the moon and all the stars is in vibration. Arrangement makes the length and rapidity of vibrations different, but the vibration of each electron affects the vibration of every other electron.

The sun, moon and planets have an influence of a definite nature upon human beings. The fixed stars are so far removed and so numerous that they counteract each other very largely. The theory is that the position of the planets at the time a baby draws its first breath over a certain certain characteristics of that person throughout life. Mr. Lau says that through concentrated study astrologers have determined what influence each planet in a given position has. It is by knowing these things that he casts a horoscope. The horoscope tells the characteristics, and while astrologers believe that the will is free to overcome these natural tendencies they consider it very important for the parents to know a child's horoscope so that they can train him to overcome his weaknesses and help him choose his vocation.

Some Reject the Theory.

These are only a few of the high lights of astrology. Mr. Lau emphasized the fact that a person cannot possibly get a fair idea of astrology in a brief survey, but that a person must devote years of concentration and study to the subject before he sees light. Then suddenly the whole thing comes to him. This, he says, is the reason that scientists reject the theory. It does not look reasonable to them at first and they do not study it long enough to understand.

When asked about palmistry Mr. Lau said that the same things can be learned by reading palms as by studying astrology, but a person would not want to undertake both because either one is a life study in itself. He said that any attempt to hold the palm without understanding the every phase of the subject would be worthless because certain characteristics of the palms counteract other characteristics and all must be taken into consideration. The same would hold true of casting horoscopes without a thorough knowledge of astrology.

Mr. Lau does not claim to have a thorough understanding himself; he says he is only a student. He holds that a member of an orthodox church and he says that it does not conflict with his mystic faith. The two are entirely different.

New System of Fat Reduction

Here's a new way for all fat people to laugh together at that old bugaboo—Obesity. The saying that "there is nothing new under the sun" does not now apply to fat people any more. Here is something new for them—a new sensation, a new pleasure, a new grace, a new figure, easily found by anyone who is passing beyond the limits of skininess. Everyone has heard of the Marmola Prescription, that harmless combination of fat-defying elements perfected by one of the foremost physicians in the world. Now, from the same high authority, there comes another idea—the idea of condensing these same pure, harmless ingredients into a pleasant little tablet. Taken after eating and at bedtime, they help the stomach to dispose of all the fatty foods, converting them into compact, solid flesh, muscle and energy, without dieting or exercise. Marmola Prescription Tablets regulate the entire system—do for you what bodily exertion and self-denial can not do, and the fat, once routed, is gone for good. You can prove all this at a trifling cost. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all Marmola Company, 4612 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich. or sent postpaid by the Marmola Company, 4612 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich. but one dollar.—Advertisement.

Weddings

PEDERSON-BRADLEY

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Pederson announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Edgar W. Bradley, son of Mrs. M. W. Bradley of this city. The marriage took place in Omaha yesterday.

BAHLS-KUHLMANN

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Bahls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bahls, and W. C. Kuhlmann was solemnized last evening at the Lutheran church in the presence of a large number of guests. A small reception followed at the Bahls home, 1842 K street. The couple will make their home in Chester, Neb.

Parties of the Week

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hodges entertained at a reception Saturday afternoon and evening from 5 to 7 o'clock and from 8 to 11 o'clock at their country home near Lincoln in celebration of their silver wedding anniversary. Two hundred guests called during the late afternoon and evening to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Hodges. The rooms were attractively decorated throughout in silver and pink. A program of music and readings was given by the Misses Nellie and Edna Hodges and Harry Smith, with Miss Winifred Woodford at the piano.

Mrs. W. F. Smiley entertained the principal, Mrs. Emma M. Goodrich, and teachers of Everett school, which Billy Smiley attends, at luncheon

Saturday at 1 o'clock at the Brown Betty. The guests were seated at one table, on which the color note was pink and white. Cyclamen was used for the centerpiece, and the favors were small pink and gold butterflies.

In honor of the eighth birthday anniversary of her son, Donald, Mrs. Ethel Shurtliff entertained at a birthday party Friday afternoon at her home, 1321 L street, from 3 until 5 o'clock. For refreshments the little guests were seated at one table which had most attractive decorations of pink. The centerpiece was a pink birthday cake, lighted with the same color candles, and wreathed with pink roses. At each place was a pink card in a crystal holder, and a pink candy basket tied with a similar colored bow. The favors were boxes of marbles, tied with large bows and wrapped in pink paper.

The fifty-third anniversary of the founding of Kappa Alpha Theta will be celebrated by the alumnae and active members in Lincoln with a Founders' day luncheon next Saturday at the chapter house, 1548 R street. The luncheon is to be very informal, and all Thetas are cordially invited to attend. Mrs. Vance Traphagen is chairman of the committee in charge.

Mrs. Lura Schuler Smith and Herbert Schmidt will entertain a group of out-of-town musicians at luncheon at the Lincolnshire tomorrow and at the Friedman concert in the afternoon at the Temple theatre.

Among the attractive affairs of the week were the two dinner on Thursday and Friday evenings for which Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Rehlander were host and hostess at their home, 2217 A street. Twelve guests were entertained upon each occasion and following the dinners there were cards.

Complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Mark Woods and Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Joyce, who will leave a week from today for the east and their Mediterranean trip, Mr. and Mrs. John Dorgan were host and hostess last evening at a charming dinner. Lilies and roses were combined in the appointments of the dinner table where covers were laid for eighteen.

Mrs. Joseph L. Burnham entertained at luncheon at 1 o'clock on Friday at the Lincolnshire as a courtesy to Mrs. Robert M. Joyce. The appointments and decorations were most attractive and following the luncheon bridge was played at Mrs. Burnham's home.

A beautifully appointed dinner was given Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Talbot in honor of Mrs. Talbot's brother, Irving Chalmers, and his fiancée, Miss Jeanette Moore. The guests numbered eighteen and covers for this number were arranged at one large table whose color motif was green and white with a centerpiece of baby's breath and fuchsia. At each place was a bud vase holding a single rose. The favors were green sachets for the ladies and cigar holders for the gentlemen. The prizes in the bridge game were won by Miss Helen Curtiss and Perry Branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Grainger and William Grainger entertained at dinner Thursday evening at the home of their partners. The prizes in the bridge game were won by Miss Helen Curtiss and Perry Branch.

Nebraska Girl in "The Book of Job"

It is with great interest that active and alumni university people learn that one of their number Miss Genevieve Addleman, has scored quite a success with the Stuart Walker players who played at the Brandeis theatre in Omaha Saturday in "The Book of Job."

Miss Addleman was graduated from the University of Nebraska in the class of 1920, and since then has been active in dramatic fields. Saturday evening was Miss Addleman's last performance with the company as the serious illness of her mother demands her return to her home in Hastings.

Miss Addleman will be well remembered by followers of dramatic art in the university. She was a member of the University Players, and played in the Little Green theatre for two summers. Miss Addleman is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, and also graduated with Phi Beta Kappa honors.

The Stuart Walker players are well known nationally. Mr. Walker conducts a dramatic school in Indianapolis, and during the summer months puts his pupils into practice work in Indianapolis and Cincinnati. Those with greater talent he places in his road show. The present company has played for some time in New York, Washington, D. C., and other places of interest.

Future bride and groom, Tuesday evening, Mrs. C. S. Guenzel entertained in honor of Miss Bahls. Mrs. C. R. Wilke received the prize in the game of the evening. There was a shower for the bride and after the gifts were presented to the bride she was showered with rice from a pretty umbrella. A two course luncheon was served.

Mrs. E. H. Hoppert and Mrs. H. Meyer were hostesses at miscellaneous shower on Wednesday evening. A mock wedding was a feature of the evening. The gifts were presented to the bride during a series of charades. Twenty-two guests were present and a two course luncheon was served. The Misses Esther and Dorothy Leifer were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower on Thursday evening. The gifts were presented to the bride during a series of charades. Twenty-two guests were present and a two course luncheon was served.

A group of friends of Mrs. E. J. Hoffman were entertained last Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Schilling, 1835 Lake street, in honor of her birthday anniversary. The evening was spent at cards. Mrs. E. J. Hoffman and James Moses being the most successful players. At the close of the evening a luncheon was served by Mrs. Schilling, assisted by Mrs. George B. Keith and Mrs. W. C. Hoffman.

Henry Albert Ahl celebrated his eighth birthday on last Tuesday with a party to which were invited a number of his friends including Morris Romick, Norman and Frederick Enslin, Lloyd Scott, Glen and Virgil Rice, Glen Wright, Robert Roach and Reuben Scheidt. A three course luncheon was served. The young host is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ahl, 1311 B street.

A number of pre-nuptial affairs were given in honor of Miss Gertrude Bahls whose marriage to W. C. Kuhlmann took place Saturday evening. The Misses Gertrude and Helen Hauschild entertained four-teen friends of the bride-to-be at a kitchen shower. The guests embroidered tea towels during the evening. Little Marian Ruth Hoppert presented the bride with a prettily decorated basket filled with gifts. A two course luncheon was served at one large table attractively decorated with pink roses, candles and a min-

Social Clubs

The W. P. O. C. club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. E. G. Bivens and Mrs. Will McClay at the home of the former, 1445 Washington street. Guests of the club were Mrs. Leslie B. Tyrell and Mrs. Walter Salisbury. The hostess served refreshments, assisted by Miss Eleanor Bivens. The party for the husbands planned for February 6, has been postponed to February 20. The next meeting will be in February with Mrs. Carl Dalling, 2957 Holdrege street.

Mrs. H. E. Allender was hostess for the regular meeting of the Tia Juana club Thursday afternoon at her home, 1423 U street. Two tables of five hundred were present. High scores being made by Mrs. Cecil Wadlow and Mrs. M. E. Rosenmeyer. The club will meet on February 1 with Mrs. H. Ault, 2929 O street.

On Thursday the Idea-way club was entertained at the Lincolnshire club for a 1 o'clock luncheon by Mrs. Minor Bacon. Covers were laid for sixteen at one large table, which had for a centerpiece a bowl of pink roses and narcissus. Club guests were Mrs. E. F. Campbell, Mrs. Frank Eddy, and Mrs. Elmer Cummings. The guest prize was given to Mrs. Farrell. In two weeks the club will meet with Mrs. Clyde Masterman, 2403 Bradford drive.

Members of the Happy Hollow club were entertained last Wednesday afternoon. Guests of the club were Mrs. W. T. Fenton, Mrs. Gus Hyers, and Mrs. M. A. Mahoney. First prize was won by Mrs. Arthur Paige and consolation by Mrs. George Tobin. The guest prize was presented to Mrs. Mahoney. The hostess served a two course luncheon, assisted by her daughter, Miss Arthur Paige and consolation by Mrs. George Tobin. The guest prize was presented to Mrs. Mahoney. Oxley and Carl Jester won high scores. The hostess served a two course supper. On January 31 the club will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Jester, 2208 South Forty-eighth.

The Jolly 500 club met with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Pyke, 420 North Twenty-seventh street, Thursday evening. The high score was made by O. E. Stephmann and consolation by H. D. Forke. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Curry, 2919 Randolph street.

DeMolay Variety Show Made Up of Clever Acts

Eight acts of comedy, classic and drama, headlined by a musical comedy, "Sweetheart Rose," will feature the second annual DeMolay variety show to be presented at the Orpheum theatre, January 29 and 30. Several choruses of university and high school girls will take part in the different acts. The opening night of the show is to be known as "family night" when mothers accompanying their families will be given roses at the door.

"Sweetheart Rose" is being produced under the personal direction of Hart Jenks, who wrote the act. He was assisted by Ruth Nougott, Edwina Edwards, and others. The show is an artist's studio in Greenwich village. Among the leading characters will be Dwight, "Slick" Merriam as Rodney J. Stevens and Miss Nell Peabody as "Rose." Both are well known university students, and other university students will play leading parts. Miss Dorothy Sprague, Harold Schultz, Joe Zimmerman, and Francis Milson. The variety show will be opened by O. B. Anderson and a group of Y. M. C. A. boys in an act entitled, "The Athlete's Dream." Boys of twelve years of age or slightly older, take part in the act, among them being Warren Pershing.

"The Serenaders," popular university orchestra, with Dolly Dippie and Jimmy Schuyler in a series of popular songs will form the basis for a musical revue known as the "Serenade Revue." Ira Stotzner and Clyde Davis will have the other leads in the act.

Hart Jenks, accompanied by Ruth Nougott, Edwina Edwards, will present a Scotch impersonation, "Just a Wee Bit of Heather." Mr. Jenks recently presented this act for a radio concert in Omaha, where he was given much favorable comment in the Omaha papers.

Kohly Strinsky and Miss Helen Mueller, two of Lincoln's youngest artists, will give an act of classical music.

Orville Andrews, the black face comedian of the last year DeMolay show, will be seen in the program again this year. His act, called "Pure and Simple," will be composed largely of songs. Vera A. Stanley Capps will assist in the act.

The University players will present a comedy skit as part of the variety of the show and John Dawson and Eleanor Potter will present a comedy plot.

DeMolay Variety Show Made Up of Clever Acts

Eight acts of comedy, classic and drama, headlined by a musical comedy, "Sweetheart Rose," will feature the second annual DeMolay variety show to be presented at the Orpheum theatre, January 29 and 30. Several choruses of university and high school girls will take part in the different acts. The opening night of the show is to be known as "family night" when mothers accompanying their families will be given roses at the door.

"Sweetheart Rose" is being produced under the personal direction of Hart Jenks, who wrote the act. He was assisted by Ruth Nougott, Edwina Edwards, and others. The show is an artist's studio in Greenwich village. Among the leading characters will be Dwight, "Slick" Merriam as Rodney J. Stevens and Miss Nell Peabody as "Rose." Both are well known university students, and other university students will play leading parts. Miss Dorothy Sprague, Harold Schultz, Joe Zimmerman, and Francis Milson. The variety show will be opened by O. B. Anderson and a group of Y. M. C. A. boys in an act entitled, "The Athlete's Dream." Boys of twelve years of age or slightly older, take part in the act, among them being Warren Pershing.

"The Serenaders," popular university orchestra, with Dolly Dippie and Jimmy Schuyler in a series of popular songs will form the basis for a musical revue known as the "Serenade Revue." Ira Stotzner and Clyde Davis will have the other leads in the act.

Hart Jenks, accompanied by Ruth Nougott, Edwina Edwards, will present a Scotch impersonation, "Just a Wee Bit of Heather." Mr. Jenks recently presented this act for a radio concert in Omaha, where he was given much favorable comment in the Omaha papers.

Kohly Strinsky and Miss Helen Mueller, two of Lincoln's youngest artists, will give an act of classical music.

Orville Andrews, the black face comedian of the last year DeMolay show, will be seen in the program again this year. His act, called "Pure and Simple," will be composed largely of songs. Vera A. Stanley Capps will assist in the act.

The University players will present a comedy skit as part of the variety of the show and John Dawson and Eleanor Potter will present a comedy plot.

LINCOLN WOMEN'S CLUBS WIDE AWAKE AND BUSY

The Lincoln Woman's club is one of the most active and effective organizations in the city. This has been true since its beginning, and is true today. The club has been successful in its efforts to bring about the betterment of the city. This year's work has been the culmination of the efforts put forth each year in the past, and gives every promise of being a banner year. The membership has nearly reached the two thousand mark, the departments are filled with life women who are really doing things, and the club is taking a forthright part in some of the world affairs. The president, Mrs. W. W. Whitfield, believes that the action of the club at the last meeting cannot be published too many times, and gives every promise of being a banner year. The membership has nearly reached the two thousand mark, the departments are filled with life women who are really doing things, and the club is taking a forthright part in some of the world affairs. Avenue of Trees a Monument to Lancaster County People Who Paid the Supreme Price

Another spring is on its way, and with the coming of the May-time, the poplars, Flandre Fields will raise their heads, once more between the crosses row on row. And in the sky the lark will fly again, his brave song this time unclouded and undisturbed by the "may-time" below.

It will be May-time in America, too, and loyal Americans will do honor to those who gave their lives to preserve the cherished freedom. Each community will do it in its own way, but the feeling will be just the same.

Perhaps one of the most wonderful of all the memorials will be the Avenue of Trees dedicated by the members of the Lincoln Woman's club to the boys of Lancaster county who never came back, and to the two Red Cross nurses who also gave their lives in the service.

These are ninety-three trees to be planted, one for each person on Lancaster county's casualty list. The trees are to be elms and they are to be planted sometime in the late spring, the latter part of April or May at the south entrance of Antelope park.

Following is the list of names on record of Lancaster county's dead, and if any name has been left out, it is the desire of the Lincoln Woman's club that communication to that effect be made to the committee.

Army Officers.
Winfield Breeze, Lincoln, killed in action; Lorenzo W. Chamberlain, Lincoln, died of wounds; Robert H. Flansburg, Lincoln, killed in action; Fred Philbrick, Lincoln, killed in action; Ross L. Williams, Bethany, killed in action.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT IN A PROFITABLE MEETING.
The music department of the Havelock Woman's club met as usual in the public library, Tuesday afternoon for study and program. Mrs. W. R. Ackerman was added to the program committee. The president was made first assistant to Mrs. Carl Eerg, who has charge of the instrumental section.

During the study hour, Mrs. E. S. Luce, musical director, gave a practical lesson on "How to most Profitably Read a Music Journal, when Time is Limited." Hereafter a standard musical weekly journal will be on the club tables. "The Archæologist" and "Form of Music" from Faulkner's "Music in the Home" was the chapter considered. It was illustrated by the club members who sang Round's "All Thro' the Night" and Barnby's "Sweet and Low."

A program of song was given by Miss Blanche Smith, soprano, accompanied by Miss Walthers on the piano. Miss Smith sang: "I Hid My Love" by Guy d'Hardelot; and "The Want of You" by Vanderpool. Gounod's "Lullaby" and Bachman's "Lullaby" were played in duet form by Mrs. Ackerman and Mrs. DeLong, both members of the department.

The organization of a club octette program on January 26, will consist of MacDowell music.

MRS. WHEELER GIVES REVIEW OF BOOKS.

The literature department of the Lincoln Woman's club journeyed through the realm of books Thursday afternoon under the skillful guidance of Mrs. H. H. Wheeler, when she reviewed "Notable Books of 1922." She reviewed each book on a list compiled by Dr. William Lyon Phelps, literature of Yale university, and Hugh Walpole, English writer and critic, as the best books of the past year. But one book was found of both lists, no saying how the great ones differ. The speaker expressed surprise at being unable to find a review on the book that had made the most vigorous impression on her. Book publishers report the best year they have ever had and many feel that the year has made some lasting contributions in the field of science and history. Hugh Walpole writes that at least a distinct American style has been developed, that our literature shows a broadening away from the old English traditions and reflects more clearly our mode of life. An interesting comment on this tendency is the fact that a slang glossary has been added to the latest American "best seller" on its arrival in England. The speaker closed her remarks by quoting from an article written by an American man of letters, denouncing the tendency on the part of some of our best known writers to exaggerate the sex theme, and appealing to Americans to "stand steadfast by the gods of the spirit for whom our forefathers left footprints in the snow stained with blood."

An interesting fact was brought out during the discussion which followed. A well known book dealing with the development of the human race and written for juveniles was the book which the most people in the audience were familiar, each one testifying to having purchased it for some younger members of the family and then becoming absorbed in it themselves.

A rising vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Wheeler at the end of the program for the comprehensive and scholarly manner in which she

REV. JACK LEONARD SPEAKS TO AXIS CLUB.
Jack Leonard, pastor of the East Lincoln Christian church, gave an address on "The Possessions of Life" before the Axis club at its regular meeting last Tuesday evening. The attributes of mind and body were discussed with special reference to the connection which the mind holds with the Infinite. His points were effectively emphasized by appropriate quotations from poems and scripture.

Following the address by Rev. Leonard, Miss Lillian Borovicka gave a business talk on the work in a law office. The necessity of having a practical knowledge of the law and the interesting points which develop in the law practiced shown by means of description of a day's routine in a law office.

BUSINESS LEAGUE TO REVIEW "ONE OF OURS."
Thursday evening, January 25, is the date of the next regular meeting and dinner at the league rooms. Miss Cather will review "One of Ours," the recent book of her sister, Miss Willie Cather. Whos Who in Lincoln

Madame Gilderoy Scott of the University School of Music, where she is instructor in the voice department. Madame Scott's preparation for her chosen profession is broad and thorough. She came to America during the war, having been engaged by the Aborn Opera company, of New York, to appear in Wagner roles. The company dissolved while she was on the high seas and expected only a few days after her arrival. Madame Scott said: "I then turned to Oratorio singing, which was really what I loved best. I sang eleven Messiahs preceding Christmas, all over New York."

"Under the management of Antonia Sawyer, I toured Canada in 1916, and while singing in Ottawa was made honorary member of Princess Pat regiment."

London was the home of this lady until 1910 when she spent three years in Paris. She toured the British Isles until 1914 and was to have appeared in Wagner roles that fall when war broke out and changed all her plans. It was then she engaged to sing in New York. While living in England Madame Scott's colleagues were notable as Henri Scott, Matzenauer, Yvonne De Treville.

In 1916 she came to Chicago to be married, and she continued: "Now my little daughter claims most of the time I used to give to the public."

But Mrs. Scott's friends know that she is always most kind with her services and her talents and while she is a dutiful and loving mother she is still generous to the public.

After living in Lincoln a few months she returned to England to visit her parents in London and in speaking of this she said: "That was when I realized how much I loved Lincoln. I had lived in London, Paris, New York, Chicago, and Lincoln was a restful. In Chicago we lived in an apartment and I did not know my neighbor across the hall. But one feels more of the personal touch here. Life is more so."

The Musical World

UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MUSIC.

New classes offered in the third term beginning January 23 are harmony, appreciation, also children's classes in violin and dramatic art. Registration for this term begins tomorrow.

Roy Wall of the voice department, appeared before the Lincoln Women's club at their meeting in the Temple theatre Monday afternoon. Mr. Wall was accompanied by Marguerite Klinker. Mr. Wall also gave a short recital before the Lions club at their meeting Thursday noon.

Rex Fair played a flute recital which was broadcasted from the university radio station Thursday evening.

Marcel Jones of the pianoforte department played at the evening meeting of the Musicales Art club at the home of Mrs. E. L. Cline Monday evening.

Miss Robinson, student with Madame Gilderoy Scott accompanied by Nina Means, and Ada C. Malcolm of the dramatic department gave the program at the university farm convention Tuesday afternoon.

Allice Sorenson, post-graduate with Hazel Kinsella and now a member of the faculty at Cotner college, gave a pianoforte recital there on Friday evening.

Ruth Lindsay, student with Howard Kirkpatrick sang before the ladies' society of the First Congregational church Wednesday afternoon.

Frieda Hempel will turn the clock back 73 years and commemorate Jenny Lind at Auditorium Thursday night, January 25.

Miss Hempel will wear an exact copy of one of Jenny Lind's gowns, her assisting artists will wear colonial costumes, and in setting and in the atmosphere of the golden days will be preserved throughout the evening.

As Jenny Lind, in her time, was the most talked-of person in Europe and America, no Miss Hempel today embodied not only the charm of 73 years ago, but the glory of two continents in her great, historical program.—Adv.

Eight Society Young Ladies to Assist the Hempel Concert Thursday Night, January 25.

Eight of our society young ladies in colonial costumes will form part of the stage production of the great tribute to the Swedish queen. The audience and acting as honorary ushers, will present flowers over the footlights to Frieda Hempel. The following young ladies will assist: Miss Elizabeth Strader, Miss Helen Burkett, Miss Eleanor Talbot, Miss Elizabeth Sawyer, Miss Kathryn Everett, Miss Elizabeth Raymond, Miss Marion Wood, Miss Marjorie Bell.—Adv.

Ignaz Friedman, the noted concert pianist, who will appear in recital tomorrow afternoon at the Temple theatre under the auspices of the Matinee Musicales, speaks most encouragingly of the growth of musical appreciation in America in a recent interview. He said in part:

"You cannot imagine the emotion with which a musician returns to America. In musical history, America's achievements have been quite as remarkable as its progress in arriving at a place of economic and commercial leadership. America is situated in the atmosphere of continental Europe, with its traditions reaching so deeply into the past, there is something of a strengthening tonic effect in breathing the spirit of your land again."

"America today has the best orchestras in the world. The best pianists of the world are found in America. They are not native Americans but the appreciation of the music among increasing numbers of American people is growing so sincere and genuine that the best artists in the world are attracted here."

"In fifteen to twenty years, I feel safe in predicting that America will be producing the best native artists. This is not a chance hazard. I seriously believe that, if America continues its genuine absorption in the best music, one tangible result will be the production of the world's finest voices, the world's finest masters of musical expression in every medium."

Lincoln musicians and music lovers and those of nearby towns are anticipating with the greatest pleasure the appearance here tomorrow of this great pianist. Mr. Friedman played in recital at the Temple theatre in February of 1921, causing such a furor among musical devotees that as possible an effort was made to insure a second visit to Lincoln.

He will play the following program: Rondo, A minor, Mozart. Rondo, Hummel-Friedman. Nocturne op. 62, No. 2, Chopin. Polonaise Fantaisie, Chopin. Waltz, A flat major, Chopin. Two Mazurkas, Chopin. Five Etudes, Chopin. Corneval, Schumann. Erlking, Schubert-Liszt. Berenide, Schubert-Liszt. The Bat, Strauss-Godowsky.

The choir of Trinity M. E. church will give a Mendelssohn program at the church, Sixteenth and A streets, Sunday evening at 7:30 in place of the regular service. This is the first of a series of sacred concerts, one of which is planned for each month. The famous German composer, Felix Mendelssohn-Bartholdy, was especially interested in church music. He was born at Hamburg, Feb. 3, 1808, and unlike many great musicians, he had none of the evils of poverty to contend with, the family being wealthy and highly refined. Mendelssohn began to compose before he was twelve years of age. His music, polished by himself, perfect in form, melodious, easily understood, and not too difficult technically, immediately became popular in concert, drawing room and church.

The last number of the program will be the cantata, "Come, Let Us Sing" (55th Psalm). This chorus was found among Mendelssohn's autograph manuscripts before they left this country for the Imperial library at Berlin. It is dated by the author, "11th April, 1835," which is some weeks after the first performance of the work at Leipzig. It appeared likely that the newly discovered chorus had been written to give a more complete finish to the Psalm than is given by the Andante in G.

Come, Let Us Sing (55th Psalm):
1. O, Come Let Us Worship—Tenor solo and chorus.

2. Come, Let Us Sing—Soprano solo and chorus.

3. In His Hands—Duet for soprano and contralto.

4. For His is the Sea—Chorus.
V. Henceforth, When Ye Hear His Voice—Tenor solo and quartet.

VI. For His is the Sea—Chorus.
VII. Soprano, Lenore C. Burkett, contralto, Marjorie Cooper; tenor, Walter Wheatley, baritone, O. E. Johnson. Chorus director: Lenore C. Burkett. Orchestra director: Hil-da Chownis. Organ: Mrs. E. G. Bivins.

The choir of the First Presbyterian church including Miss Margaret Perry, Soprano; Mrs. F. O. Schlegel, contralto; Homer Compton, tenor; Oscar Bennett, bass and Mrs. Edith B. Ross, organist, will hold a musical evening at the church on Wednesday evening, February 14 at 8:15 o'clock. The first half of the program will be two groups of solos and a duet.

The second half will be given over to the presentation of the cantata, "The Persian Garden" by Liza Lerman.

The public is cordially invited to the musical for which there will be no charge.

Mrs. Dorothy Caruso, as executrix of the late tenor's estate and guardian of Gloria Caruso, has authorized her attorneys, Wise & Seligman, to arrange for the sale of a large collection of art objects owned by Enrico Caruso during his residence in America. A catalogue of the objects is now in preparation, and the sale will be held in February or early March, under the direction of the American Art association.

The tenor's collections included Lithographs and Renaissance bronzes, some from the J. P. Morgan sale; antique glass from 2,000 B. C. to the fifth century A. D.; ancient majolica, Greek and Roman pottery, marble bas-reliefs, Persian miniatures, rare American coins, gold and enamel watches and snuff-boxes, sixteenth century copies and other textiles, Italian Renaissance furniture used in his home and at least some of his costumes, and other effects.

Of these last Mrs. Caruso will give her share to the fund known as the Caruso Foundation.—The Musical Digest.

A society for the suppression of suggestive song and dance music is being organized under the direction of a New York dancing instructor, who recently wrote Mrs. George V. Loft, deputy police commissioner, that he considered vulgar music chiefly responsible for the objectionable steps in modern dancing.

The first action of the new society will be the formation of a committee to review the popular song and dance music as fast as published. These reviews will be distributed by weekly bulletins to orchestra leaders, dance hall proprietors, dancing teachers and music stores throughout the United States.

The movement is supported by prominent leaders of New York hotel and restaurant orchestras.

At the New York Metropolitan opera house, during the clean-up between matinees and night there was a Christmas celebration of the house staff for the past year. The celebration was a most interesting affair, and the younger associates subsiding $230 in her honor.

Lincoln Homestead No. 329 B. A. Y. will hold a short business meeting Friday at 7:30 o'clock, followed by dancing at the hall, 1134 A street. All new members are urged to present. Refreshments will be served.

Farragut Women's Relief Corps met with Farragut Post for joint installation Saturday evening, January 13. Maude B. Keck, department patriotic instructor, installed the following officers: Lora Ohlar, president; Lillian Smith, senior vice president; Sarah Munson, junior vice president; Mary Weakley, secretary; Myrtle O'Neal, treasurer; Helen Bacon, chaplain; Flora Schwenker, conductor; Vina Hendricks, assistant conductor; Lela Nelson, patriotic instructor; Lorentine McLaughlin, guard; Lillian Harris, assistant guard; Ada Helms, press correspondent; Kattie Davis, musician; Katherine Kerlin, Emogene Downey, Bertha Turner, Anna Marshall, color bearers. The retiring president, Mrs. Blanchard, gave a brief report of the work done during the year and she was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. Flowers were also presented to the installing officer by the newly elected president. A Bible was presented to the post and corps by Comrade Meyers.

Maple Grove No. 25, Woodmen Circle, held their regular meeting Friday evening in Walsh hall. A large number was present and two new members were initiated. Much interest was being taken in the drive to be put on during the spring months for new members. A com-missionary fund was also collected.

The THEATERS

(Advertisement.)
AT THE THEATRES.

"The Circle" at the Orpheum Tomorrow Night.

The Selwyns announce as the attraction at the Orpheum Monday night "The Circle," from the pen of Somerset Maugham, which was the rage in London for one year at the Haymarket theatre, and one year in Paris. When the Maugham comedy was presented last season at the Selwyns theatre it was pronounced the best that the metropolis had seen in years and the critics were unanimous in proclaiming it "a comedy gem."

"The Circle" was an instantaneous success and ran the entire season in New York to capacity business. The Selwyns have cast the play in a grand manner, assembling five of the most prominent stars to present it on tour. In summoning Wilton Lackaye to the role of Lord Porteous, they have had the good fortune to find an actor not only famous but fit. Henry E. Dixey is another whose name means much to any play; Amelia Bingham, a warm favorite with playgoers for excellent work in the past; Charlotte Walker, always welcomed for her clever work and Norman Hackett a favorite of long standing go to make up a superb cast.

"THE BAT" COMES TO THE ORPHEUM TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY.

The bat, by Mary Roberts Rhinehart and Avery Hopwood undoubtedly the greatest dramatic success in years, which Wagenhals and Kemper will present at the Orpheum theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week is now making the second of tacular tours of the country ever achieved by a play. Absolute capacity audiences are the rule at each performance given of "The Bat" and thousands, literally, who desire to see the performance are finding themselves unable to secure seats.

The success of "The Bat" on tour is not hard to understand. The play itself is 100 per cent entertainment. It is thrilling, mysterious and dramatic. More, it is uproariously funny. Critics after critics have declared unequivocally, that one character in "The Bat" is unquestionably the funniest character ever seen on any stage. And this, mind you, in a play that has been called "the greatest mystery play ever written" and has proved the justice of the description by runs of more than two years in New York and over one year in Chicago.

Wagenhals and Kemper has spared nothing to make this tour of "The Bat" a triumph. It is produced in a splendid fashion and the cast is a splendid one, including as it does, Cecile Cummings, Fanchon Campbell, Orrin Shear, Ernest Woodward, Helen Joy, Frank Bond, Brandon Evans, Gordon Eldrid, George Lyne Evans and Ernest Pollock.

TWO BRILLIANT VAUDEVILLE BILLS WILL APPEAR AT THE LIBERTY THIS WEEK.

The season's aristocratic offerings will appear at the Liberty this week. For the first half starting Monday matinee the Gibson Sisters and Grady appear in a song and dance diversion, with all the joyousness of youth and beauty; the Three Weber Girls, attractive in themselves, promise an interesting surprise in the forthcoming performance; Earl Christie and Charles Bennett, vaudeville's famous runsters, will be seen in an offering entitled "Two Southern Gentlemen"; the Three McDonaids, two pretty and clever girls and a splendid youth, will surprise all with their ability and skill; Dean Moore and Kathryn Arnold, in up-to-date song, music and patter; "Mud and Sand," a riot of laughter, the Liberty News Weekly and Pearl White in the mystery play "Plunder" and taking his place. We never see very much of Rodolph here (new pictures, I mean.) I admit he is good-looking and a fair actor, but (Richard Bar- thelme) beats him by a long way. I prefer Richard's straw hat to Val- entino's pearls and fine things he wears in his pictures.

ON THE SCREEN

Excellent Attractions at the Lyric, Rialto, and Colonial This Week.

There is a delicate plot, superbly developed, with love appeal that is intense, in William de Mille's gorgeous production "The World's A Stage," featuring the dainty, lovely, and virtuous Lewis Stone, the feature attraction at the Lyric this week. Clyde Cooke in a new birth-provoking comedy "Lazy Bones," interesting tropical subjects, fun from the frame, the address of the Lyric, Snyman and Tyler, instrumental soloists. A special interpretative musical program will be rendered by the Lyric Concert orchestra, Joseph Black, director, and the star of the Lyric, "Forget-Me-Not," starring Bessie Love and Garrett Hughes, will be the feature attraction at the Rialto this week.

"Forget-Me-Not" will make you laugh a little and cry a little and you will come away feeling glad that you are alive and that it is a pretty good old world after all. Lloyd Hamilton will rock you with laughter with his latest comedy "No Luck." The News and Times of the Day and the added attraction, "Some where in Naples," a picturesque novel offering with Hugh Pearce, and Ruth Kalleneyn—Director, Walter Wheatley. A harmonizing program of music will be rendered by Conductor Jean L. Schneider and his symphony players, Wilber Chenoweth, organist.

First they stole his clothes, then they stole his girl and yet they squealed when he turned in with a society crook and stole a few things back. You will have nervous prostration, if you miss seeing Charles Ray in "Alas Julius Caesar" at the Colonial this week! Harold Lloyd will release you in his biggest laughing success, "Never Weaken," Colonial News Weekly, also interesting travel subjects, special music for this program will be rendered by J. C. Norman, Rickolds and Herbert C. McAnan, organists.

B. DeMille productions a year but you know they're the high points of the season. On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday we are showing Mr. DeMille's latest production, "Manslaughter," from the story by Alice Duer Miller. Jeanie McPherson wrote the scenario.

The cast is a knockout. Thomas Meighan, Leatrice Joy and Lois Wilson head it. It is probably the most stirring and human story Mr. DeMille has ever visualized on the screen. And it isn't lacking in spectacle, either.

Gowans sets luxury galore, thrills in profusion and drama as intense as anything you ever saw. Scenes from the barbarian invasion of Rome, and these are the greatest in spectacle the screen has ever seen.

"Manslaughter" is a tale of the mad modern age with its profligate waste of life. It is the masterpiece of the world's master producer.

Even if you only go to see motion pictures once a year—this is the one you must see! It's a Paramount picture.

Answers to Movie Fans

Dear Movie Editor—Here I am again again to bother you. I know you will get tired of me some time.

Several weeks ago when I wrote to you I told you I didn't like Rodolph Valentino, but since then I have seen the "Sheik" and I am quite fond of him now. It was the first time I had seen him act.

Will you please give me the address of Bebe Daniels and Wanda Hawley. I think they are both as sweet as they can be. I won't take any more of your time today. I am —EDITH, Humboldt, Neb.

So you've had a change of heart regarding Rodolph. Well, that's nice. Both Bebe Daniels and Wanda Hawley would get letters sent to them in care of Famous Players-Lasky, Hollywood, Cal.

Dear Movie Editor—It's the last day of the year and I wish to have the old year—problems settled and begin the new year right now. I don't see why Rodolph Valentino doesn't ever make any pictures that come to Lincoln. I used to be a Valentino "crush" but he is gradually drifting away and Milton Sills is more attractive with her hair combed close to her head as she used to wear it. She isn't exactly the "bobbed" hair type.

Following is the "Hush" cast: Vera Stanford, Clara Kimball Young, Jack Stanford, J. Frank Glendon, Jack Dane, Kathryn Williams, Hugh Graham, Jack Pratt, Herbert Brooks, Bertram Grassby, Grace Brooks, Gray Alexander, "Maid," Beatrice La Plante, Butler, Mr. Underhill.

I have no cast for "The Black Thief." Address William Desmond in care of the Los Angeles Athletic club.

Dear Movie Editor—This is the first letter I have ever written to you and I know it surely will not be the last. I read all of the movie news every week, and have often wondered where you get all of the knowledge you have about them. Do you go to see all of the movies every week?

I saw "Clarence" Monday and I'm just wild about Wallie, aren't you? That's too bad about him. How did he catch the "flu"?

Agnes Ayres is sure a beauty, isn't she? I love her mouth. It's so cute, and I'm just certainly crazy about her acting, too, aren't you? It's positively "scrumptious," you know, and May May! Isn't she the sweetest little thing, though, just the right size for a "tall man."

I think it's mean of the old movie directors not to let Rodolph in on "The Spanish Cavalier" don't you? What is Rodolph's next picture after "The Young Rajah" was he in a picture called "A Rogue's Romance"?

Will it ever come to Lincoln? Do you know when it will? He's still going to be in the movies, isn't he? I hope so, don't you?

How tall is Roy Stewart? What is his age, height and weight? When does his next picture here and what will it be? Please send me photographs of the stars as I am starting a new movie book.

I must end as my letter is getting too long, and I'm afraid it will take up too much space, or else be thrown in the waste basket.

Just oceans of thanks in advance for the pictures, etc.—"JUST NEW."

I don't see all of the "movies" every week, but I do the best I can. However, my knowledge is not all gained by seeing the pictures. I to you for the first time. I always read the "Answers to Movie Fans" and wish you would send me some pictures. Can you tell me if Wanda Hawley has any children? —VIOLETT, Friend, Neb.

I am mailing you some pictures, soon. I have never heard of any little Hawleys. Come again.

Dear Movie Editor—This is the second time I have written to you, and I have a few questions.

Is Harrison Ford married, and if he is, to whom? What are some of the pictures he has played in, and will play in?

I have mailed out some information that I have on scenario writing, and also some companies that might be interested in your work. If you need any more information on the subject, I shall be glad to furnish you with all that I have available.

The cast for "Orphans of the Storm" is: "Henriette Girard," Lillian Gish; "Louise," Dorothy Gish; "Chevalier de Valdey," Joseph Schildkraut; "Count de Linieres," Frank Losee; "Comtesse de Linieres," Catherine Emmett; "Mother Frochard," Lucile La Verne; "Jacques," Sheldon Lewis; "Marquis de Pressle," Morgan Wallace; "Pierre Frochard," Frank Puglia; "Picard," "Creighton Hale; "Jacques Forget me not," Leslie King; "Danton," Monte Blue; "Robespierre," Sidney Herbert; "King Louis XVI," Leo Kolmer; "The Doctor," Adolphe Lestina; "Sister Genevieve," Kate Bruce.

Joseph Schildkraut, who plays the role of "De Valdey," is known as "the handsomest man in the world." He is a recruit from the legitimate stage, and when he was playing in Vienna, the Emperor of Austria made him the favorite of the court, and his beauty became a matter of world-wide comment. He has dark hair and eyes and his father is also a stage player of renown.

Leatrice Joy married? How old is she? Is Douglas MacLean in the movies any more? I have not seen him for a long while. How old is he? Do you know who played opposite him in "Chickens"?

My sister and I are starting a movie book, and would be greatly pleased to have some pictures. I am enclosing stamps, and hope I have not taken up too much space in your column.—BILLY.

Harrison Ford is not married at present. He's divorced from Beatrice Prentice. "The World's Applause" is the latest picture he has done. He will also play with Marion Davies in her next Cosmopolitan picture.

Other pictures he has had a prominent role in are: "Girls," "Unclaimed Goods," "Miss Hobbs," "The Great Reward," "The Passion Flower," "On Lady, Lady."

Leatrice Joy is married to Jack Gilbert. She is in the early twenties. Douglas MacLean was born in 1892. You will see him in "The Tentative," Gladys George opposite him in "Chickens."

Dear Sir—This is the first time I have ever written to you, but I cer-

It isn't the "mean old movie directors who are keeping Rodolph from appearing in "The Spanish Cavalier" it's Rodolph's pride. The young gentleman in his suit with Famous Players-Lasky, and as a result he can't work at all, unless he condescends to ask for his old place back on the Lasky pay-roll at the paltry sum of $1,250 per week. Consequently there is no picture to follow "The Young Rajah," and won't be unless Rodolph "gets to work."

Mr. Valentino does not appear in the cast of "A Rogue's Romance," Earl Williams is the leading man in that picture.

Roy Stewart is two inches over six feet in height, and weighs 210 pounds. He is married to a non-professional, and he is thirty-eight years old.

House Peters is close to forty, also married. He's five feet eleven in height, and weighs 160. His next appearance will be in "Lost and Found." It will be sometime before it comes to Lincoln, since it is not yet released.

tainly do enjoy your page. I am a great lover of the movies and want to ask you a number of questions, which I am not able to find out any- where else. Will you please give me the cast for "The Orphans of the Storm," also a complete description of the young noblemen, De Vaudrey, his name was I think, who was Lillian Gish's lover. I certainly did admire him. Who is he?

Also, will you please send me all the details you know in regard to scenario writing. I have written a number of stories which I would like to send in to a company. If you would please give me the qualifications that are necessary to do so. Also please give me several addresses of differ- ent companies who receive stories.

Please give me a description of the following as to color of eyes and hair, height, age, if married and to whom, and their addresses: Lillian and Dorothy Gish, Shirley Mason, Rodolph Valentino, Niles Welch, Wallace MacDonald and if you have a picture of Valentino I would like to have one.—A MOVIE LOVER, Falls City, Neb.

I have mailed out some information that I have on scenario writing, and also some companies that might be interested in your work. If you need any more information on the subject, I shall be glad to furnish you with all that I have available.

The cast for "Orphans of the Storm" is: "Henriette Girard," Lillian Gish; "Louise," Dorothy Gish; "Chevalier de Valdey," Joseph Schildkraut; "Count de Linieres," Frank Losee; "Comtesse de Linieres," Catherine Emmett; "Mother Frochard," Lucile La Verne; "Jacques," Sheldon Lewis; "Marquis de Pressle," Morgan Wallace; "Pierre Frochard," Frank Puglia; "Picard," "Creighton Hale; "Jacques Forget me not," Leslie King; "Danton," Monte Blue; "Robespierre," Sidney Herbert; "King Louis XVI," Leo Kolmer; "The Doctor," Adolphe Lestina; "Sister Genevieve," Kate Bruce.

Joseph Schildkraut, who plays the role of "De Vaudrey," is known as "the handsomest man in the world." He is a recruit from the legitimate stage, and when he was playing in Vienna, the Emperor of Austria made him the favorite of the court, and his beauty became a matter of world-wide comment. He has dark hair and eyes and his father is also a stage player of renown.

Leatrice Joy married? How old is she? Is Douglas MacLean in the movies any more? I have not seen him for a long while. How old is he? Do you know who played opposite him in "Chickens"?

My sister and I are starting a movie book, and would be greatly pleased to have some pictures. I am enclosing stamps, and hope I have not taken up too much space in your column.—BILLY.

Harrison Ford is not married at present. He's divorced from Beatrice Prentice. "The World's Applause" is the latest picture he has done. He will also play with Marion Davies in her next Cosmopolitan picture.

Other pictures he has had a prominent role in are: "Girls," "Unclaimed Goods," "Miss Hobbs," "The Great Reward," "The Passion Flower," "On Lady, Lady."

Leatrice Joy is married to Jack Gilbert. She is in the early twenties. Douglas MacLean was born in 1892. You will see him in "The Tentative," Gladys George opposite him in "Chickens."

It isn't the "mean old movie directors who are keeping Rodolph from appearing in "The Spanish Cavalier" it's Rodolph's pride. The young gentleman in his suit with Famous Players-Lasky, and as a result he can't work at all, unless he condescends to ask for his old place back on the Lasky pay-roll at the paltry sum of $1,250 per week. Consequently there is no picture to follow "The Young Rajah," and won't be unless Rodolph "gets to work."

Mr. Valentino does not appear in the cast of "A Rogue's Romance," Earl Williams is the leading man in that picture.

Roy Stewart is two inches over six feet in height, and weighs 210 pounds. He is married to a non-professional, and he is thirty-eight years old.

House Peters is close to forty, also married. He's five feet eleven in height, and weighs 160. His next appearance will be in "Lost and Found." It will be sometime before it comes to Lincoln, since it is not yet released.

FILM FEATURES from the CINEMA WORLD

"FORGET-ME-NOT"

The Mother..... Irene Hunt
The Father..... William McChin
The Girl..... Bessie Love
The Boy..... Gareth Hughes
The Musician..... Otto Lederer
The Other Girl..... Myrtle Lind

When they were threatened with eviction from their very meager home, Mary Gordon and her husband decided that they can no longer keep their infant child. Gathering the baby up in her arms Mary takes her to a foundling asylum. She places her in a cradle which has a sign on it saying that children will be kept there just one hour after they have been left, so as to give the parents time to reconsider.

Mary places the baby in the cradle and then goes to the park to sit. She watches the big cathedral clock, her mind still in a turmoil. She notices another woman in the park with her baby, and the two of them begin to talk. Finally the stranger asks Mary if she has any children. Mary says that she has, and then looking at the clock sees that she has just one minute to get her baby back. She rushes into the asylum only to find the cradle empty, and to learn that the clock she has been watching is five minutes slow.

Ann, as the baby is called, is taken to an orphan asylum. One day during a fire she breaks her leg, and is forced to wear a brace for years afterward. A drive for the adoption of babies from the home is on, and several times Ann has been just on the point of adoption when the prospective parents would not notice her lameness and pass on to some other child. Ann's own mother, who at this time is very wealthy, comes to the institution after a baby, and attracted by Anna's smiling smile thinks of taking her, then she notices the brace and goes on to Jimmy, Anna's sweetheart. Jimmy begs Mary to take Ann instead, but she will not listen to him, and takes him away.

Ann is the only child left at the orphanage, and she feels so badly that she spends the rest of the day crying in one of the corners of the school yard.

Rodolpho, a street musician with a portable organ, finds Anna directed by his dog, Queenie. She tells him her story, and although he leaves her at the time, he comes back a few hours later and takes her to his own home.

Rodolpho's great ambition from then on was to make a wonderful violinist of Ann. She studies, and has several years training. One day she has an engagement to play at a church wedding. While she was very intent upon her music, she could not resist watching the marriage service, and great was her surprise and consternation when she discovered that the groom was none other than her childhood sweetheart, Jimmy.

Then what do you suppose happens to Jimmy, Jimmy's wife and Ann, and how do you suppose that Ann's mother ever finds her? All of these things are part of an extraordinary climax, and are intensely interesting.

"THE WORLD'S APPLAUSE"

Corinne d'Alys..... Bebe Daniels
John Elliott..... Lewis Stone
Ella Townsend..... Kathlyn Williams
Robert Townsend..... Adolphe Menjou
James Crane..... Brandon Hurst
Secretary to Corinne..... Mayme Kelso

Corinne d'Alys, swept to sudden success by her charm and personality, ends a sensational successful season as a theatrical star amid the applause of her audience. Her head has become turned by the applause of her world, and she has a perfect passion for praise and publicity.

John Elliott, her producer, who loves her, feels that she is sacrificing the great artist which she is capable of being, for mere vanity and love for notoriety.

Robert Townsend, a celebrated artist, who is also in love with her, gains her consent to sit for a portrait, telling her that so far, only America knows her, but that the portrait will bring all Europe to her feet. Elliott, whose sister is Townsend's wife, resents Townsend's attentions to Corinne, for two reasons, he loves Corinne himself, and he is loyal to his sister. People have already begun to link Townsend's name with that of Corinne, and were doing a great deal of talking.

On the day that the portrait is finished, Townsend gives a big party in honor of Corinne whom he hopes to win before the evening is over.

He is in his studio arranging the portrait, and a beautiful diamond tiara which he hopes to persuade Corinne to accept. There is a knock at the door, and believing it to be Corinne, he dismisses his valet with instructions that he is not to be disturbed, he will go out to his guests a little later. When Townsend goes to the door he finds that it is his wife. Townsend is furious and tries to persuade her to leave. She refuses and they quarrel.

In the adjoining room, the guests begin to arrive, and throughout all of the arrivals the quarrel between Townsend and his wife increased, rising to a burst of rage when Mrs. Townsend first discovers the portrait and then the tiara. Seizing a dagger she slashes the portrait, and then she goes to the door and in her mad rage she accidentally stabs her husband.

Corinne is vexed at being kept waiting so long, and finally insists that the butler open the door to the studio. She goes in alone and finds the body of Townsend on the floor. Meanwhile Mrs. Townsend is beside herself with horror and fear when she discovers what she has done, and immediately telephones for her brother, who had not been invited to the party. His anxiety for his sister changes to fear when he hears the laughing and talking in the next room. He manages to get his sister away, but as he is leaving he is seen by the last of the guests, James Crane, a newspaper man.

"BROAD DAYLIGHT"

Nora Fay..... Lois Wilson
Joel Morgan..... Ralph Lewis
Peter Fay..... Wilton Taylor
The "Scarab"..... Robert M. Walker
Sunday..... Kenneth Gibson
Shadow..... Ben Hewitt

Peter Fay has one daughter, Nora, whom he is forced to leave to do a stretch in the penitentiary because of the treachery of Scary Schuyler, the leader of a blackmailing gang. This leaves Nora alone in the world, and she determines to go straight, which determination is hard to keep in her every mind because she is the daughter of old Peter Fay.

Schuyler tries to influence Nora to leave the straight and narrow path she has chosen, but to no avail. However, Schuyler does not give up. He recognizes an opportunity to make a big haul, and confides his plans to Nora, telling her that the man who wants to blackmail is the man who will help her father to prison. Nora consents to the plan which is to marry this wealthy man's son, and then blackmail him, threatening to expose the fact that the son's wife is a daughter of a convict. The plan works beautifully. Nora consents to revenge the man who wrecked her father. The wedding takes place and then—well, it doesn't come out at all as you think it does.

ANSWERS TO Movie Fans

Dear Movie Editor—This is the first time I have ever written to you, but I want to ask you a few questions. Has "Orphans of the Storm" ever been in Lincoln? If so, when? If not, when will it be in Lincoln? What is Shirley Mason's latest picture? A friend of mine told me the other day that Shirley was married when she was sixteen years old. Was she, or is this statement wrong? Thank you in advance for your information. I am yours truly—EILEEN, Crawford, Neb.

"Orphans of the Storm" has been in Lincoln two or three times. I can't give you the dates of every Lincoln appearance, but it was here at the Rialto during the week of May 1.

"Pawnticket 210" is the title of Shirley's latest production. Shirley is only twenty-one now, and she's been married several years, so she couldn't have been much over sixteen when she was married.

Come again. I'm always glad to have new fans from new towns.

Dear Movie Editor—We have never written before, but I am sure of an answer to our questions from you, so thought we would write. These are the questions:

Who was the man who played as Dorothy Dalton in "On the High Seas"? We thought he was about the best part of the play, and wish he could play the leading role in some play. How old is Betty Compson, and is she married? We saw her in "To Have and To Hold" and we thought her lovely in her part. Bert Lyell was fine also.

Does Theodore Kosloff give dancing lessons now? We think he is a very good actor, even though he doesn't play the hero.

I guess we aren't very stylish, as we haven't mentioned Rodolph Valentino, but we aren't very ardent Valentino fans. If everyone was a Valentino fan, what would become of the other stars?—JUST BUNNY AND ESTHER, Hastings, Neb.

Some more new fans. I hope this will not be your last letter. Winter Hall played the role of John Devereaux in "On the High Seas."

He is not a leading man yet, but you never know. Betty Compson is twenty-six, and still single. She has never been married, either.

Mr. Kosloff doesn't give many dancing lessons now. He sometimes helps some of his co-workers in their interpretations of dances for the screen but his screen work keeps him busy.

It's quite a novelty to find two girls who are not Valentino fans. They are few and far between.

Dear Movie Editor—What has become of Douglas MacLean and Doris May? We haven't seen them for a long time, have we? Also, Clara Horton? I saw her opposite Charles Ray and liked her so well. I thought she was real cute. When will we see her again, and who will play opposite her?

Another thing I want to find out is who the man is, who played the part of the purchasing agent in "The Bachelor Daddy," and in "The Man Who Saw Tomorrow." I have seen him so much, but haven't been able to find out who he is. I think he's a good actor. Isn't his name "Cyril King"? If so, is he Blanche King's brother?

What is Thomas next picture? Who plays opposite Letitia Joy in "Java Head"? How long have the Meighans been married?

Are the Talmadge girls Jewish? I heard they were. How long has Norma been married?

What is Mabelle Julienne Scott's next picture? What color hair and eyes has Mary Alden? How old is she, and is she married?

Who plays the leading parts in "Lorna Doone"? Will you please tell me the ages of the following: Anita Stewart, Jacqueline Logan, Agnes Ayres, Helen Eddy, May MacAvoy, Nazimova, Nita Naldi, Elsie Ferguson, and Pola Negri? How old is Gloria's little girl?

I guess I've taken enough space now. I bet you wish I would never write again. When I got started I don't know when to stop. Thank you—VIV, University Place.

You will see Douglas MacLean soon in "The Hotentot." Dear May is with R-C Picture Corporation. Clara Horton is playing the heroine in the "Fighting Blood" series. Miss Healy is the "Never Do Well" is Thomas Meighan's picture—upon which he has just started work.

Jacqueline Logan and Raymond Hatten are featured with Letitia Joy in "Java Head."

The Talmadge girls were all born in America, so consequently they are Americans. Norma has been married six or seven years. The Meighans have been married about twice as long as Norma. I don't keep the exact dates of the weddings of the stars.

Mabelle Julienne Scott is playing opposite Reginald Denny in "The Abyssal Brute." Although Mary Alden plays "mother" roles a great deal of she is still in her late twenties. She has brown hair and gray eyes. I've never met her husband, nor even heard of him.

The featured players in "Lorna Doone" are Madge Bellamy and John Bowers.

Anita Stewart and Agnes Ayres were born the same year, 1896. Miss Logan is in her early twenties, and May MacAvoy was born in 1901. Helen Eddy was born a year later than Agnes Ayres, and Nita Naldi is getting close to thirty. Elsie Ferguson first saw the light of day in 1883. Nazimova is forty-two. Theodore Kosloff is thirty-nine, and Pola Negri was born in 1885. Gloria Swanson's baby must be about two and a half years old.

Dear Movie Editor—This is the first time I have ever written to you, but I would like to ask you a few questions. How old is Jackie Coogan? What are his parents' names? Where does Wanda Hawley live, and what is her address? How old is Bebe Daniels?

Will you please send me some pictures of prominent movie players? I am starting a movie book, and would certainly appreciate your kindness. I particularly wish one of Jackie Coogan. Do these pictures cost anything. If so, let me know please. I would like to see my answer whenever you can. Thank you. I am—E. C. Broken Bow, Neb.

I hope you are not losing patience in waiting for your letter to appear. There were so many ahead that it makes it two or three Sundays late in getting into print.

Jackie Coogan was born in 1914. His father and mother are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coogan, sr. Wanda Hawley lives in Hollywood, Cal. You may reach her in care of Famous Players-Lasky. Bebe is twenty-one. I am sending you some pictures. There is no charge, except a two-cent stamp to cover postage.

Dear Movie Editor—Will you please tell me all you can of Marie Prevost and Walter Hiers. Also their ages, address, color of hair and eyes, height and weight and if married, and too much.

When will "Singed Wings" be here, also "The Beautiful and Damned"? You were so nice about sending me the picture of Wanda Hawley that I wondered if you would send me one of Marie Prevost, or Walter Hiers. Lovingly—NELLIE LUCILE, I can't be "so nice" about the Prevost and Hiers pictures—because I have none. Marie was born in Sarina, Canada, twenty-five years ago, and received her education in Denver. She started her motion picture career in Mack Sennet Comedies, and is now being featured in Warner Brothers Pictures. She is an expert swimmer and high diver, five feet four inches tall, and weighs 123.

Her hair is dark and she has blue eyes. Address her at 451 So. Hampshire, Los Angeles, Cal. She is single at present, but it is announced that she is to be Mrs. Kenneth Harlan, No. 2.

Walter Hiers is to be married real soon to a wealthy young lady from Syracuse, New York, Miss Adah MacWilliams by name. He has just completed his first picture as a star, "Mr. Billings Spends His Dime." He was born in Georgia. During his advanced school years he was sent to the "Peekskill Military Academy" in New York, and it was while he was at school there that he decided to try his luck on the stage.

He weighs 220 pounds, and is five feet ten and a half inches tall. He is popular with his friends, because he's always jolly and good natured. Mr. Hiers makes his screen debut through D. W. Griffith, after he and spent some time in vaudeville. He has dark hair and eyes and may be reached at 612 W. 5th St., Los Angeles, Cal.

I don't know just when "The Beautiful and Damned" will be here. Watch the Star "ads" for its appearance here soon.

Dear Movie Editor—This is the first letter I have written you, and I do not want to take up too much of your time, but there are a few things I would like to know about some of the movie stars.

I saw Rodolph Valentino act Monday night in "The Sheik" and I thought he was an excellent actor. He has blue eyes and dark hair, or am I mistaken? Is he married? I suppose he is a very kind man, I would like to know his address.

I also saw Agnes Ayres act in the same play. I think she is very pretty. Does she have golden hair? What color are her eyes? About how old is she? Would also like to have her address.

Do these actors and actresses really take part in the different parts as is seen in the pictures? Closing I remain—MISS ALMA, Humboldt, Neb.

Rodolph has brown eyes and brown hair. Address him at 1133 Hollywood Blvd., Los Angeles, Cal. He is married—twice. His first wife was Jean Acker, and the present Mrs. Valentino was Winifred Hudnut. However, the law does not give Mrs. Valentino No. 2 the right to live with her husband until Rodolph's divorce from his first wife is effective.

Address Agnes Ayres in care of Famous Players-Lasky, Hollywood, Cal. She has brown hair and hazel eyes, and is twenty-six years old.

The players play their parts in nearly every instance, as we see it in the picture. Once in a while in a difficult stunt, an actor has a "double," somebody to do the hard part for him, but most of the players prefer to do their own "stunts" without a double. Of course when you see a man pitched over a high precipice in a picture, you can usually take it for granted that it's a dummy that hurls through the air, and not the player.

Dear Movie Editor—Here I am again with more questions. What is the cast for "The Prisoner of Zenda," and "Back Home and Broke"? I am sorry I did not receive Thomas Meighan's picture. Have you another of him. Thanking you—ADA.

I'll do the best I can on the picture. Following is the cast for "The Prisoner of Zenda": Rudolph Rosendyll, Lewis Stone; "King Rudolf," Lewis Stone; "Princess Flavia," Alice Terry; "Colonel Sapt," Robert Edeson; "Duke," Michael; "Stuart Holmes," "Rupert of Hentzau," Ramon Novarro; "Antoinette de Mauban," Barbara La Marr; "Count Von Tarnhelm," Malcolm McGregor; "Marshall Von Sirkens," Edward Connelly; "Countess Helga," Lois Lee.

The "Back Home and Broke" cast is: Tom Redding, Thomas Meighan, Mary Thorne, Lila Lee, Otis Grimes.

Rodolph has brown eyes and brown hair. Address him at 1133 Hollywood Blvd., Los Angeles, Cal. He is married—twice. His first wife was Jean Acker, and the present Mrs. Valentino was Winifred Hudnut. However, the law does not give Mrs. Valentino No. 2 the right to live with her husband until Rodolph's divorce from his first wife is effective.

Address Agnes Ayres in care of Famous Players-Lasky, Hollywood, Cal. She has brown hair and hazel eyes, and is twenty-six years old.

The players play their parts in nearly every instance, as we see it in the picture. Once in a while in a difficult stunt, an actor has a "double," somebody to do the hard part for him, but most of the players prefer to do their own "stunts" without a double. Of course when you see a man pitched over a high precipice in a picture, you can usually take it for granted that it's a dummy that hurls through the air, and not the player.

Dear Movie Editor—Here I am again with more questions. What is the cast for "The Prisoner of Zenda," and "Back Home and Broke"? I am sorry I did not receive Thomas Meighan's picture. Have you another of him. Thanking you—ADA.

I'll do the best I can on the picture. Following is the cast for "The Prisoner of Zenda": Rudolph Rosendyll, Lewis Stone; "King Rudolf," Lewis Stone; "Princess Flavia," Alice Terry; "Colonel Sapt," Robert Edeson; "Duke," Michael; "Stuart Holmes," "Rupert of Hentzau," Ramon Novarro; "Antoinette de Mauban," Barbara La Marr; "Count Von Tarnhelm," Malcolm McGregor; "Marshall Von Sirkens," Edward Connelly; "Countess Helga," Lois Lee.

The "Back Home and Broke" cast is: Tom Redding, Thomas Meighan, Mary Thorne, Lila Lee, Otis Grimes.

"Friends, Romans, Countrymen!"
Lend me your ears!

Caesar was a wise old bird. He refused to crow three times. Charles Ray is "crowned" just once. Once is enough.

He wanders the streets in a bath curtain and a towel. Snow! won't come off. But what about bath curtain?

If Marc Antony could deliver well known oration over what cops leave of Mr. Alias Julius Caesar he'd have a call for a full line of new faces instead of just a brace of ears.

Here's Ray at his best --- A dandy story neck-deep in laughs.
